Incunabula typographica

- 1 ALANUS DE INSULIS. Distinctiones theologalium. (Straßburg, Printer C. W., civis Argentinensis, about 1474).

Fol. Goth. type, double columns of 50–52 lines, 95 unnn. leaves, capital spaces supplied in red. Half calf. Frs. 900.—

Hain*-Cop. 391. Proctor 343. Pellechet 245. Brit. Mus. Cat. I, 82. Gesamtkatalog der Wiegendrucke I, 488. Voullième, Berlin 2188.

The only recorded edition of this work which gives an alphabetical list with explanations of the terms of the Holy Writ which do not occur in the theologians and the church fathers. The author Alanus de Insulis (Alain de Lille), French theologian, philosopher, historian and poet, was born at Lille between 1114 and 1128 and died at Citeaux in 1202 or 1203. His knowledge, more varied than profound, caused him to be called 'Doctor universalis'.

The book was formerly attributed by Hain and other bibliographers, to the press of Richard Paffroet of Deventer, but it is now assigned to a certain „C. W., civis Argentinensis” (? Conrad Wolfach or ? Clas Wendker) see Voullième, Die deutschen Drucker d. 15. Jahrh., p. 148.

A fine and perfect copy with wide margins. Waterstained on margins and a few wormholes in places.

No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 2 ALBERTUS MAGNUS. De officio missae. Ulm, Joh. Zainer, 1475.

4^{to}. Goth. letter, 33 a. 34 lines, 135 unnn. leaves. With a fine woodcut-border on leaf 5a. Modern half calf. Frs. 400.—

Gesamtkatalog I, 700. Hain* 449. Proctor 2494. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 520.

The first 4 leaves damaged on lower margin and repaired without loss of text, one wormhole affecting one letter, partly rather stained, otherwise good and complete copy; the fine woodcutborder untouched and unshaved.

3 ALMANAC for the year 1478. (Augsburg, Ant. Sorg, 1477.)

Broadside. Lower half beginning with line 3 of the first month (Februarius): FERIA quarta et quinta conversionis Pauli. Ends: Item Eclipsis solis erit vicesimonono die Julij hora prima minuto xxxvij. Dimidio duracio. o. lvi. et puncta nouem. 162 (out of 333) by 252 mm. Frs. 150.—

Gesamtkat. II, 1324. Einblattdrucke 149. Schreiber 3155. Copinger II, 2194.

Our copy contains the medical part of the almanac giving the good or bad days for opening a vein of any part of human body of old or young men. The first 6 months are called Februarius, Marcius, Aprillis, Maius, Junius und Embolismalis with the days of January to June, so that February contains the feasts of January, March the feasts of February and so on till Embolismalis enumerating the days of June. The title, the Coniunctiones and Oppositiones and 3 lines of the Minutiones are missing.

The Munic copy has on verso another almanac for the same year, of the same printer, but composed by another astronomer with different dates. The fact, that of this second almanac only one copy — surely a proof — is known, let us conclude, that the latter has not really been edited and that Sorg in 1477 published only this first edition. Only three copies of it are known: 1 at the Lambach Abbey, the 2nd at the University Library of Lipsia and the 3^d at Munic. Some insignificant wormholes, in lower corner and early inscription.

4 S. AMBROSIUS. Episc. Mediolanensis. Hexameron seu de principiis rerum. Augsburg, Johann Schüssler, 'circeiter' 5. may, 1472.

Fol. Finely printed in gothic letter, spaces in the text for Greek words. 35 long lines to a full-page. 77 unnl. leaves, the last blank, the first, blank, is wanting. Boards. Frs. 900.—

Gesamtkat. II, 1603. Hain* 903. Proctor 1595. Voullième Berlin 56. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, 329 (imperfect copy, quoting only 72 leaves).

A fine imprint, especially remarkable for the contrast of text- and capital letters. It is printed by Johann Schüssler, the second printer of Augsburg, who acquired his stock of letters from Zainer in 1470 and up to his last book, an Augustinus de Ancona, published in 1473, he only used type I of Zainer. Altogether he printed only 10 works, all of which are distinguished by their accuracy and beauty of arrangement. The present book has a typographical peculiarity. The text breaks off on fol. 49vo, leaf 18, with the words 'Se', Fugerat nos fratres, &c. On the next leaf the text begins with the same words. This indicates that the book was printed on two presses. — Fine copy.

Beati Ambrosij Episcopi mediolanensis opusculum quod hexameron vocitatur : iucunde explicat . Per Johannem Schüssler imperialis orbis Aug . quem qm diligenter impressum, Anno salutifere incarnationis hiesu saluatoris, Millesimo quatuorcentesimo septua-gesimosecundo. Circeiter pous maijas xj.

- 5 ANDREAE, JOA. Additiones Speculi Judiciales Guilelmi Duranti. N. p. d. (Strassburg, Georg Husner and Joh. Beckenhub ab. 1473.)

Fol. Finely printed in an early gothic letter, 2 cols of 54 lines, 303 n. leaves incl. 2 blanks. Original binding, blind stamped pigskin on wooden boards, clasps gone, slightly wormed. Frs. 900.—

Gesamtkat. II, 1675. Hain* 1083. Pelledet 679. Brit. Mus. Cat. I, p. 84.

Extremely rare, like all products of Husner's first press. Especially remarkable as being one of the first products of this press, probably published together or shortly after Durandus' Speculum of 1473, the earliest book known of this press. Winship 1083: „Uniform with the Speculum and probably of the same date, 1473.”

The book itself is very fine and the quality of the paper corresponds to the beauty of the types.

The present copy is an unusually large one, absolutely perfect and in the best condition, preserved in its original binding.

Only 2 copies in U. S. A. acc. to Census.

- 6 ANSELMUS, S. Cantuar. Archiepisc. Opera et tractatus. Nürnberg, Caspar Hochfeder, 1491.

First Edition of the important works of the famous Anselmus, archbishop of Canterbury, who may be considered the first scholastic philosopher and theologian.

First Imprint of Caspar Hochfeder, who worked at Nürnberg from 1491 up to 1498; in 1498 he went to Metz and continued printing there and at Kraukau in the 16th century.

Very large copy.

- 7 ANTONINUS. Summa theologica, pars tertia. Venice, Leonard Wild, 1480.

Fol. Gothic letter, 59 lines, 2 col., 432 unn. ll. (the first and last blank) with sign., many capitals supplied in red. With two beautifully illuminated large initials (on l. A⁴ and A⁶vo.) in gold and colours, with large floral borders in margins finely painted in several colours. Original Augsburg binding, wooden boards covered with blind tooled brown calf, adorned with rows of interesting stamps: double eagles, double roses within a square, the head of Christ with glory and fleurs de lis, on the under side among others five labels bearing the name of the monastery "afra"; clasps gone. (Slightly rubbed.) Frs. 300.—

Gesamtkat. II, 2187. Hain* 1244 (3). Copinger III, p. 240. Not in Proctor and the Brit. Mus. Cat.

A fine copy in an interesting monastic binding with the name "afra", the patron of the monastery St. Ulrich and Afra at Augsburg where the binding is probably executed.

With engraved exlibris of the monastery St. Ulrich and Afra.

- 8 AQUINO, THOMAS DE. Tractatus de periculis circa sacramentum Eucharistiae contingentibus. Tractatus de Judaeis. N. p. d. (Ulm, Johann Zainer, 1475).

Fol. Goth. char. without sign. 30–33 long lines, 8 unnn. leaves, the first blank. Capitals and paragraphs marks painted in red, rubricated, titles and colophon with red underlinings. Modern vellum binding. Frs. 1200.—

Hain* 1375. Proctor 2495. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, 520. Voullième Berlin 2632. Wegener 18.

First Edition of this work.

The rarity of these Cautelae or cautions to the officiating priest as to the course which he should pursue in the event of certain accident to the elements of the Eucharist is well known. They are occasionally incorporated in the service of the mass, besides being separately printed, as here. Their contents cannot but arrest the attention of the curious in virtue of their singularity and of the evidence which they contain of the superstitions importance attached by their compilers to the most trivial mischance.

A few wormholes; rather stained by water.

No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 9 AQUINO, THOMAS DE. De veritate catholicae fidei contra errores infidelium; Summa catholicae fidei. N. p. d. Strassburg, Printer of Henricus Arimensis, bef. 1474).

Fol. Gothic letter, double columns of 49 lines, 248 unnn. ll. (last blank) with capital spaces without signature, foliation or catchwords. Rubricated throughout with four large finely painted initials in red and blue pen-drawn ornamentation, and a great number of smaller capitals supplied in red and blue alternately. In an old binding, brown calf over wooden boards divided by blind stamped fillets in lozenges, one clasp, damaged. Frs. 900.—

Hain* 1385. Proctor 322. Brit. Mus. Cat. I, 77. Voullième Berlin 2179.

Splendid copy of a beautifully printed book, clean with large margins. The Brit. Mus. Cat. placing this impression before 1474, this edition must be regarded as the first edition.

At beginning 9 ll. with an old MS. register dated: Finis anno 1476, on the first blank leaf an old inscription by the same hand:

Schrecksmel

Bernardum memoret legit hoc quicumque volumen

Mente roget tota deus explicet ut sua vota

de peurbadi.

Principal authority of Natural History for the Middle-Ages. Written about 1350, it sums up all the knowledge on natural science available at the period. Books III-VII deal with Medicine (De anima, de qualitibus et humoribus humani corporis, de partibus humani corporis. de etatibus hominis. De infirmitatibus). Book XI: De aere, XII: de avibus, XIV: de terra, XV: de provinciis (geography), XVI: de lapidibus et metallis, XVII: de arboribus et plantis, XVIII de animalibus, XIX: de coloribus, odoribus et saporibus.

Very fine and large copy of this famous work. Library-stamp on the title-page.

- 14 BARTHOLOMAEUS DE CHAIMIS. Interrogatorium sive Confessionale. N. p. d. (Straßburg, Printer of the Henricus Ariminensis, ca. 1475).

Fol. Handsomely printed in bold gothic letter, long lines, 32 to a page, 137 unnn. leaves, without sign.; red painted capitals. Contemporary binding, wooden boards covered with blind stamped pigskin, two clasps. Frs. 650.—

Hain* 2478. Proctor 307. Pelledet 1856. Brit. Mus. Cat. I, 79. Pollard, Hawkins Cat., p. 17, no. 28.

A beautiful specimen of early printing.

Like other reprints, this edition ends with the Latin verses in honour of Christopher Valdarfer from that printer's Milan edition of 1474.

The author, Bartholomaeus de Chaimis, a Franciscan friar, died 1496. His communion book is of theological interest, but there are interesting references to temporal affairs. On leaf 59 under "Illicita acquisitio" gaming is mentioned (dicing and card playing), si aliquid illibite et turpiter acquisivit ut per ludum TAXILLORUM CARTARUM et huiusmodi fortune ludos", etc. Chess (ludus scaechorum) is also mentioned and it seems to have been allowable for clerics to play, this not being a game of dance.

Many professions and trades are mentioned, with the frauds, practised in each. Medical men, Lawyers, Sword and Arrow makers, Goldsmiths (mentioning alchemical gold and silver), Tailors (Ladies' dresses not to be too decolletée), Winesellers not to keep disorderly houses nor to allow dicing and card playing; Actors and even Musicians to be circumspect.

Fine copy; a few leaves slightly stained. With exlibris: Ad Bibliothecam Capituli ruralis Stiefenhofen.

- 15 BARTOLUS DE SAXOFERRATO. Tractatus varii: Repetitio l. i. C. de dignitate, de nobilitate cum pulchris addicionibus. De insigniis et armis. De Falcone. De regimine rei publice civitatis. Leipzig, Gregorius Böttiger (or Werman), 1495.

Hain* 2636. Not in Proctor and the Brit. Mus. Cat.

Very rare product of Böttiger's press. Böttiger was at work at Leipzig only from 1492 to 1497.

The author of this collection of interesting treatises was an Italian jurist, professor of the civil law at the university of Perugia. He was the most famous master of the dialectical school of jurists.

The second treatise "de Nobilitate" contains short interesting notes on the nobilities of Naples, Venice, Rome, Florence and of France, Germany, England, Spain etc.

Very clean and large copy. A few MS notes in an early hand.

A very fine impression by the famous Straßburg printer Eggestein printed with the same type as used in the first German Bible. These Epistles, addressed to kings, the Pope, princes, princesses, prelates, down to the simple nun and the andiorite, are very interesting and important for the criticism of contemporary history. Two letters of political and spiritual content are addressed to the "Regina iherosolimorum".

Fine large copy with old marginal annotations. First and last leaf somewhat spotted; at the commencement a few wormholes. From the Buxheim-Library.

It contains a curious note on Gutenberg under the year 1457: Hoc anno salutifera doctrinarum omnium imprimendorum librorum ars auctore johanne Gutemberg germano reperta est. At end we find 5 leaves containing an important list of the bishops and archbishops of Milan, beginning with the year 40 p. C. n. The first leaf with the genealogy is very rare and wanting in many copies.

Our copy is in very good condition. An early owner has added many MS. annotations to the list of the bishops at end, some ll. are slightly water-stained, two small wormholes in blank margin at end, in l. t' a rent.

Hain-Copinger* 5501. Proctor 5574. Brit. Mus. Cat. V, p. 561 f. Essling 1198. First edition of the most beautiful of all woodcut-books. A considerable literatur has grown round the question of the authorship of the famous woodcuts in this remarkable book and nearly all the greatest Venetian artists of the time have been named in this connection: Giovanni Bellini, Jacopo de Barbari, Carpaccio etc.; but the problem remains unsolved and probably insoluble.

The "Strife of Love in a Dream", as its Elizabethan translator prettily rendered the title of the Hypnerotomachia is an archacological love-story, full of dreams and visions of a mythological and antiquarian nature. It was written in Treviso in 1467 at a time when the passion for all things Greek and Roman, roused by the Revival of Learning, was at its climax. Its author, Francesco

Colonna, reveals his name by the initial letters of the successive chapters which read: POLIAM FRATER FRANCISCUS COLUMNA PERAMAVIT. He was a Dominican friar since 1455, lived in the Convent of SS. Giovanni e Paolo in Venice since 1471, was 66 years old when his book was published in 1499 and died 1527 at the age of 94. The book is written in a curious language, a learned mixture of Italian Latin and "Greek" the latter being of a somewhat peculiar kind.

This well-known book is rarely found in a complete state. From our copy the first 4 leaves are wanting as usually. They contain the first title, the dedication, a Latin synopsis, synopsis in Italian prose, synopsis in Italian verse and epigrams of Andreas Maro Brixiamensis. The fifth leaf (preserved in our copy) contains the second title, nearly as the first. The whole text is quite complete. Our copy contains also the rare leaf of Errata, which is mostly wanting. In the whole our copy is in a good state of preservation, a few wormholes are skilfully repaired. The impressions of the cuts are magnificent. — With exlibris of Sobolewski.

Hain*-Cop. 5805. Proctor 2750. Brit. Mus. Cat. III, p. 675.

The only impression of Stuttgart printed before 1500, the "Erwählung Maximilians", a pamphlet of 8 leaves, excepted. "The capital l and two border-pieces on the first page of text of the 'Erwählung' had been previously used by Conrad Fyner at Urach, in or about 1481. It is conceivable, that Fyner came to Stuttgart in 1486 and printed these books (i. e. the "Erwählung" and the Cyprianus). More probably, however, he died or gave up business in or before 1485, and the printer of the 'Erwählung' purchased some of his stock." (Brit. Mus. Cat. III, p. 675.)

The Brit. Mus. Cat. mentions still another undated book printed by this press, but Voullième, Die deutschen Drucker, p. 160 does not mention it.

This is the first edition of the Epistolae of Cyprianus printed in Germany. These letters are not only an important source of history of church life and of ecclesiastical law, on account of their rich and manifold contents, but in large part they are important monuments of the literary activity of their author, since they are mostly in the form of treatises upon the topic in question.

Quite complete copy of this very interesting and extremely rare product of an anonymous Stuttgart-press. Some leaves slightly stained, a few marginal notes, in l. f⁷ a rent repaired.

The famous Dante-edition the first published at Venice containing woodcuts. The introduction takes up 10 leaves, the poem and commentary which surrounds it, 292 leaves, 1st and last not numbered.

The large figures at the beginning of each part of the poem are delicately executed in outline and are within an outline arabesque border introducing an architectural design containing allegorical figures and animals, the whole aspect being one of great beauty. In the rival edition brought out later in the same year the three full-page cuts with borders are omitted. In books of later date in which the border surrounding these cuts occurs, the representation of the Almighty in the arched window in the upper portion is omitted, probably from a feeling that such anthropomorphism was irreverent.

The smaller woodcuts in the columns are likewise in outline, while the initials and the printer's mark are executed on white and black ground.

The first cut is mounted, a few leaves are slightly stained, but it is a fine copy of this excellent and rare Dante-Edition whith sharp impressions of the woodcuts.

Stephan Arndes of Hamburg appeared firstly as printer at Foligno, where he worked ab. 1470–72 in partnership with Numeister. He went to Perugia and worked there in the printer-society of Joh. Vydenast. About this interesting society see Haebler, Die deutschen Drucker im Auslande, p. 56–64. 1481 we find him as independent printer at Perugia and he printed in partnership with Gerardus Thomae de Buren and P. Duranti, or Durandus, French canonist and liturgical writer, lived ab. 1230–1296. He studied law at Bologna and about 1264 was teaching canon law at Modena. After that he was called as a chaplain to the pontifical court. In 1274 he accompanied Gregory X to the council of Lyons and four years after he received the homage of Bologna and of the other cities of Romagna. In the struggles between Guelfs and Ghibellines Durandus successfully defended the papal territories and became bishop of Mende in 1286.

The "Rationale" represents the most important work of Durandus next to the Speculum iudiciale and is a liturgical treatise, written in Italy before 1286, on the origin and symbolic sense of the christian ritual. It presents a picture of the liturgy of the 13th century in the west, studied in its various forms, its traditional sources, and its relation to the church buildings and furniture. It has run through various editions, from its first publication in 1459 by Fust and Schöffer at Mainz, to the last edition at Naples, 1866.

Our copy is in a good and perfect condition; slightly stained in places there are numerous marginal notes running through the book. Some leaves repaired on margins.

Editio princeps. A rare Greek incunabulum, finely printed in cursive lower-case, the two parts of which are seldom found united. These two series of letters, which are printed about a month a part, include the following philosophers and orators: (Vol. I) Synesius, Demosthenes, Plato, Aristoteles, Philip-pus, Alexander, Hippocrates, Democritus, Heraclitus, Diogenes, Crates, Anachar-sis, Euripides, Theano, Melissa, Mya, Alciphron, Philostratus, Theophylactus, Aelianus, Aeneas, Procopius, Dionysius, Lysis, Amasis, Musonius. — (Vol. II.) Basilus Magnus, Libanius Rhetor, Chion Platonius, Aeschines et Isocrates oratores, Phalaris tyrannus, Brutus Romanus, Apollonius Tyanensis, Julianus Apostata.

This celebrated collection is renowned on account of its fine Greek printing. Roman type only appears on titles, registers and colophons; besides there is in the 2nd part a letter of Aldus Manutius to Antonius Codrus Vreus.

This copy is especially remarkable as bearing autograph signature, some marginal notes underlinings and some hands in red by Diego Covarruvias y Leyva, the celebrated Spanish ecclesiastical prince and canonist (1512—1577). In 1548 he was appointed Archbishop of San Domingo, but he never took his office in the American colony. (See Wetzer-Welte III. 1169—1170. Cams p. 148. Nouv. biogr. gén. XII, p. 296.)

A waterstain runs through the book on the upper right-hand corner, but it is a fine, wellpreserved copy of this very interesting early Greek product of the Aldus-press.

- 27 EUSEBIUS, PAMPHILUS. Caesariensis. Historia ecclesiastica. N. p. d. (Straßburg, Heinrich Eggstein, ca. 1475).

Fol. Gothic letter, 2 col., 40 ll., 128 unnl. ll. without sign., rubricated, many capitals supplied in red. With two curious, large painted initial-letters in red and black. Blind stamped brown calf (modern binding). Frs. 900.—

Hain* 6708. Copinger III, p. 259. Proctor 289. Brit. Mus. Cat. I, p. 79. Early and finely printed edition of this most important ecclesiastical history produced in ancient times. The author Eusebius of Caesarea, living from 260 (or 265) to 339 (or 340) A.D. finished this work in 325. The value of the work does not so much lie in its literary merit, but in the wealth of the materials which it furnishes for a knowledge of the early church. Many prominent figures of the first three centuries are known to us only from its pages.

Our copy of this monumental work is chiefly remarkable for its fine condition and for the two curiously illuminated initial-letters on l. 36^{vo} and 63. The first initial shows the head of an old man in face, the second another curious figure of a man in profile. Both initials are adorned with floral elongations, one showing the head of a dog. Very clean and large copy, partly with rough edges.

- 28 EUSEBIUS PAMPH., CAES. Historia Ecclesiastica. Mantua, Johann Schall, 1479.

Fol. Beautifully printed in Roman letter, long lines, 34 to a page, without signatures or numbers, but having catchwords to every page, 171 leaves, the last blank missing. Capitals supplied in red, also paragraph-marks in places. Vellum. Frs. 450.—

Hain-Cop.* 6711. Proctor 6908. Pelledet 1638.

Rare like all specimens from the press of Schall, the printer-physician of Mantua, who had established a press in Mantua in 1475. This is the only known book from the 2nd press of this printer, and one of only four books known to have been printed by him at all.

"The printer of this work was a physician. The volumes which issued from his press are of equal beauty and rarity; and it is seldom that we behold a more elegant specimen of ancient typography than that which is now before us. The types are a mixture of those used at the early Milan and Parma presses; being, however, taller and more beautiful than either of them." (Dibdin, Bibl. Spencer.) A very fine, clean copy with large margins.

- 29 EUSEBIUS, PAMPH. CAESAR. Evangelica praeparatio. (Transl. by Geo. Trapezuntius. Venice, (? Barthol. de Zanis) 1500.

Fol. Rom. letter, 62 lines, 66 numb. leaves (the last blank), woodc. capitals. MS. vellum. Frs. 300.—

Hain* 6707. Proctor 5102. Brit. Mus. Cat. V, p. 435: "The attribution of this book which Proctor assigned to Locatellus is uncertain."

The work itself, written by the famous ecclesiastic historian Eusebius of Caesarea, the "Father of Church History", belongs to the most elaborate and important apologetic works of the early church.

- 30 FABER DE WERDEA, JOH. Tractatulus de eo, an licitum sit, diebus festivis intendere disciplinis bonarum artium. N. p. d. (Leipzig, Martin Landsberg, about 1496.)

4^{to}. Goth. letters, 33 lines, 10 unnl. ll. with sign. With the printer's device of Landsberg at end. Bds. Frs. 250.—

Hain* 6857. Not in Proctor and the Brit. Mus. Cat.

The only edition printed in the 15th century. Rare product of Landsberg's press, printed with his types 1 and 5.

The author wrote many fasciculi containing moral poems during the last years of the 15th century.

Good copy of this small booklet, slightly stained in places.

No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 31 FERETTUS, NICOLAUS. De structura compositionis ad componendas epistolas. Forli, Hieronymus Medesanus, 1495.

4^{to}. Roman letter. 40–41 lines to a page and marginalia; some passages in Greek. 28 unnl. ll. w. signatures. With 2 fine woodcuts, on the first and last leaf, and numerous historiated and floriated initials on black ground. Boards. Frs. 3600.—

Hain* 6974. Copinger I, 6975. Proctor 7328. Pellediet 4778. Fumagalli p. 161–2. Pollard, Hawkins Cat. p. 227, no. 405. Essling II, p. 86 note.

The second book printed at Forli in Romagna. Forli was the first among the small towns of the Romagna which had a printing-office. It is an interesting fact that in the same year, 1495, two presses were established there, which rivalled each other. On the whole only three books are known to have been printed at Forli in the 15th century, all dated 1495. Two of them are — a special curiosity — written by the same author on the same subject, the second of which appeared less than six weeks after the first. The above book is the only product of the press of Medesanus.

The book itself is a rhetorical work on the art of composing speeches and wording letters elegantly and grammatically, written by Nicolaus Ferettus, a native of Ravenna who taught grammar at Venice and died 1523.

There are two charming woodcuts, at the beginning and end. The first is the famous cut of the school with the word Silentium and represents a teacher lecturing to older pupils while two children and a dog sit on the floor. This cut comes from Matteo Capcasa's edition of the Epigrammata Cantalycii, Venice 1493. The second cut, at the end, represents the fight of Theseus with the centaur and comes from the title-page of the Venice Plutarch of 1491, printed by Giovanni Ragazzo for L. A. Giunta. The small woodcut-capitals and the types also are probably Venetian.

The book is in the best state of preservation, apart from a few insignificant stains on lower margin. Some marginal MS.-notes in places.

Only 2 copies in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

These letters which extend over the years 1474-94 are addressed to his numerous friends, among which we find the most illustrious men of Italy of that time. The book is also of special interest for collectors of early books on Hungary, because it contains a. o. 5 letters of F. to the king Matthias Corvinus of Hungary, 3 to Nicol. Bathory, bishop of Waitzen, one to Janus Pannonius. Cp. Apponyi no 27.

Our copy is quite perfect, but rather stained by water, in the first and last leaves there are a few small wormholes.

- 34 FICINUS, MARSILIUS. De triplici vita libri tres. Venice (Bart. Pelusius, Gabr. Bracius, Joa. Bissolus, Ben. Mangius) 1498.

Hain* 7066. Proctor 5639. Only 3 books were printed by this partnership of 4 printers, 2 Greek editions, the Phalaris of 1498 and an undated Aesop of the same time and this Ficinus.

Very rare edition of this important medical book. It contains the following tracts. De vita sana, De vita longa, De vita coelitus comparanda, Apologia quaedam in qua de medicina, Astrologia, vita mundi. Item de Magis...

Fine copy, some leaves slightly stained.

No copy in the British Museum nor in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 35 FULGOSUS (FREGOSUS), BAPTISTA, C. Anteros. Milan, Leonardus Pachel, 1496.

4^{to}. Rom. char. 29 long lines, 80 unnn. leaves w. sign. (the last blank). On verso of title a full-page allegorical woodcut. Modern blind tooled black calf. Frs. 2400.—

Hain-Cop. 7393. Proctor 5599. Kristeller, Lombard. Graphik, p. 37, 38, 114.

A very curious book of the utmost rarity. It contains two dialogues written in Italian language interspersed with Latin passages; many authorities are cited on margins e. g. Aristoteles, Plato, Paulus apostolus, Suetonius, Petrarcha, Apuleius, Terentius, Vergilius, Seneca, Augustinus, Macrobius, Ovidius, Dante, Cicero, Juvenalis, Plautus, Tibullus, Boccaccio, Avicenna, etc.

The allegorical woodcut on verso of title is an elaborate work of the Milanese school. It represents the knightly author who, while writing, observes four lamenting women (Inopia, Zelotypia, Durisio, Luctus); in the background Amor bound on an arbor which bears four labels (Matrimonium, Oratio, Negotia, Abstinencia). To the left death rises from a coffin (Immatura), to the right a devil (Mors aeterna) carries a human shape perforated by an arrow.

The author, Baptista Fulgosus, was Doge at Genua from 1478-83.

This interesting book is finely printed by Leonardus Pachel, a German printer, at Milan; about him and his business see Haebler, Die deutschen Drucker des XV. Jahrhunderts im Auslande, p. 47-54. The present book is mentioned on page 52.

Very fine copy with large margins; there are a few underlinings which are hardly visible. No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

It is printed with his type 1 and 2 and dated by Voullième, Die deutschen Drucker des XV. Jahrh., p. 68 about 1489. Proctor ascribes this book erroneously to Amerbach at Basel.

A rare edition of this famous book written by the celebrated French theologian and scholastic philosopher Guillermus (William of Auvergne), bishop of Paris, who died ca. 1249.

Fine, large copy, the title page is covered with notes by a contemp. hand and the upper (white) part of the title is cut out and supplied with white paper.

Only 1 copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 37 HENRICUS DE SEGUSIO. Summa Hostiensis super titulis Decretalium, partes II–V in 2 vols. Augsburg, Ludwig Hohenwang, 1477.

Fol. Gothic letter, 33 lines. Part II: 312 unnn. ll., part III: 289 unnn. ll., part IV: 171 unnn. ll., part V: 410 unnn. ll. without sign. With 2 large ornamental capitals finely painted in gold and colours with floral elongations and large woodcut diagrams of affinity. Bound in two volumes, contemporary wooden boards, covered with blind stamped brown calf, adorned with several stamps, eagle, double rose within a square, ragged staff entwined with foliage, cordate palmated leaf etc. (clasps gone). Frs. 1200.—

Hain* 8961 (II–V). Copinger III, p. 267. Proctor 1738. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 359.

Very interesting finely printed specimen from the extremely rare press of Ludwig Hohenwang, who was at work at Augsburg only two years. The "Summa Hostiensis" is his first product and the only book with a date. He printed only still a calendar for 1477 and for 1478 and 5 other undated works. The British Museum possesses only three products from this press.

The whole book is printed with a nice, small Gothic text type with Roman majuscles.

This "Summa ardiepiscopi" or "Summa aurea" is one of the principal works of this canonist. It is often printed in the 15th 16th and 17th century and was of great importance for its usefulness. The author lived in the 13th cent. in Italy, France and England. He became cardinal of Ostia and died at Lyons in 1271.

Complete copies of this voluminous work with all 5 parts are very scarce. Our copy, containing the parts 2–5, bound in a well preserved contemporary binding, is of the best condition, very clean and untouched, with broad margins, there are only a few quite insignificant wormholes. Note of ownership on the 2nd leaf of each vol.: ad PP. Franciscanos Frisings ad Bibliothecam.

No complete copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census), only an incomplete copy in the Brit. Mus.

Hain-Cop.* 8791. Proctor 7685. Voullième Berlin 534. Brit. Mus. Cat. III, 770. Muther 462. Stockmeyer & Reber, p. 62.

A very rare Basle-Edition of the homilies edited by J. U. Surgant with the interesting large woodcut. It is a collection of homilies on the gospels arranged in order for all the sundays and festivals, compiled on behalf of the preachers.

On verso of the woodcut a letter from Surgant to Kesler, stating that the MS. from which the book has been printed was found 'in egregia ecclesie Basilien-sis bibliotheca'.

The book, though being somewhat used, is in good condition. Some faint waterstains on margins. On title-page is written: Monasterij S. Emerami Ratisponae, and it bears likewise the reverse MS.-entries of former owners.

The main interest of this copy deserves the beautiful binding. It is an original monastery chained binding on account of an entry on title and a stamp on the binding, repeated several times showing the arms of the Emmeran-monastery with the inscription 'Sanctus Emeramus'. The front-cover is abundantly adorned with interesting stamps; an outer border is formed by juxtaposed stamps of crowned double-eagles displayed within lozenges; an upper and lower list consists of four single stamps of springing dogs, an other border shows at the corners the symbols of the four evangelists and the above mentioned monastery stamp alternating with an ornamental stamp. Rosettes, acorns, leaves fill up the rest of this side. The backside has an upper and lower border of wiverns within lozenges, diagonal frame of the same double-eagles and in the compartments four circular stamps of a stag springing over a hurdle. On the whole a magnificent specimen of early German workmanship from the famous monastery St. Emmeran at Regensburg.

The first illustrated edition and the first edition printed in Germany. Edited by the poet laureate Jac. Locher called Philomusus from a German MS. All other editions having been made on Italian MSS. It may therefore, as Brunet remarks, be ranked as an EDITIO PRINCEPS.

The numerous very interesting cuts belong to the earliest cuts used by the press of Grüninger. Many are composite. Of great interest are e. g.: The woodcut on leaf 2 representing the nine Muses: Calliope enthroned crowns the poet Horace kneeling before her; on A³ The murder of Julius Caesar by Brutus and Cassius; on l. XVIII six naked children singing from music, etc.

Unusually fine and large copy of this richly illustrated classic. This edition has always been highly esteemed, and is e. g. extravagantly lauded by Dibdin who says that is was considered one of the greatest curiosities in the whole Harleian collection.

Such fine copies in the original binding are to be found very rare. Inside backcover an old MS. entry: Emptus Friburgi brisgoie 8 batz 6 Aprilis Anni 1540.

Some old marginal notes, a few small wormholes in blank margins.

Folio. Goth. letter. 38 lines, 369 ll. without the last blank; With full-page woodcut on verso of the first leaf (three sitting savants, attended by ten others) a smaller one on leaf 341 recto (physician holding an urine flask, and women) and hundreds of woodcuts of plants and animals in the text, neatly coloured throughout. Large initial letter at the beginning. Wooden boards covered with richly stamped calf (nice orig. binding), rebaked in the 18th century. Frs. 8000.—

This is the second edition of the German Hortus, and the first issued by Schönsperger, a very rapidly made reprint (within 5 months) of the Mainz Hortus of Schöfler, dated March 28 of the same year.

It is one of the most beautiful editions of the Hortus. All the subsequent ones are printed in 2 columns and illustrated by woodcuts of much smaller size.

It is supposed that the Hortus was compiled by one Johann de Cube who names himself in chapter 76 speaking of "ein gute arczney die mal ver-sucht an vil enden von mir meister Johan von cube", and who is identified with Dr. Joh. Wonnecke, of Caub or Cube, who was town-physician of Frankfurt at the end of the 15th century. In the preface is an account of the preparation of the book of which it is stated that the originator of the work caused a master learned in medicine to compile from the great masters, Galen, Avicenna, Serapion, and others, a volume dealing with the virtues of herbs, &c., but finding that it was essential to include certain plants that grew in foreign lands, he prepared himself for a pilgrimage to the Holy Sepulchre. Thus, in the company of a skilful painter, he undertook a long journey through Italy, Greece and other countries to the Holy Land, thence to Arabia Minor, Mount Sinai, Babylonia, and by Alexandria into Egypt. The identity of this scientific traveller who was a presumably rich man, apparently not a doctor, cannot be established.

Besides the series of Herbs and natural objects which the work describes, it contains an index of drugs according to their uses, a short treatise on "the Colours of Urines" and their significance — with a well-drawn woodcut of a physician inspecting a glass of urine, while a female patient with a basket awaits his verdict —, further a long index of diseases with reference to the chapters containing medicines appropriate to them, and an alphabetical index of herbs and other objects.

Unusually fine copy with exceptionally wide margins. Even the full-page cut is quite intact and absolutely unshaved. A few waterstains. The woodcut neatly coloured by a contemporary hand. 4 leaves with slightly shorter margins are very skilfully matched to the size of the other leaves. Excessively rare in such condition.

The copy of the monastery St. Peter at Salzburg.

Only an imperfect copy in U. S. A., according to Schreiber and Sudhoff only 6 or 7 copies in Europe.

- 44 HUGO (DE VINAC) DE PRATO FLORIDO, Ordinis Praed. Sermones de Sanctis. Heidelberg (Printer of Lindelbach), 1485.

Fol. Finely printed in Gothic letter with sign., 2 col. 44 lines and head-line, 285 unnl. leaves (last blank missing), capitals painted in red. Wooden boards covered with blind stamped brown leather, rebaked, clasps gone, repaired. Frs. 1800.—

Hain-Cop.* 9009. Proctor 3126. Pollard, Hawkins Catalogue, p. 90, no. 168. Brit. Mus. Cat. III, p. 669.

The first book printed at Heidelberg, by the anonymous prototypographer of that town, usually designated as the „Printer of Lindelbach” after Lindelbach’s Praecepta Latinitatis, 1486, printed in the same type as this. The British Museum Catalogue suggests that this press may have been worked by the brothers Jo. and Conr. Hist, who had been printing at Spires, very near Heidelberg, up to 1484, using a very similar type. Only 9 books are attributed to the press of the printer of Lindelbach, which continued at work until 1489.

On the margin of fol. 70 the following inscription: Hieronimus Puchberger professus monasterii Raittnhaslach Ordinis Cisterciensis. Somewhat wormed at the beginning and end, but a very clean and large copy of this rare incunabulum in its original binding.

Only 5 copies in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 45 JACOB BEN ASCHER. Arba Turim. (The four orders. Hebrew Code.) Soncino, Salomo ben Moses Soncino, before 1490.

Fol. Printed in square type without the use of vowel signs. 4 vols in 1. 2 cols of 49 lines. $94+80+50+126=350$ unnl. leaves. With a beautiful, large figured woodcut border on leaf 7. On l. 94 the Colophon with printer’s name. Wooden boards, back covered with calf. Frs. 6000.—

Hain 1880. Proctor 7302. Steinschneider 5500, 2. De Rossi p. 138. Amram p. 78. Freimann p. 114. Jacobs no. 64. Wadstein no. 183.

An exquisite piece of early Hebrew printing from the famous and rare Soncino press. Soncino, a castle in Lombardy was the seat of a learned and rich Jewish family, who derived their family-name from their residence; they established a press for the production of Hebrew books, which was conducted by Joshua Salomo and his two nephews Gerson and Salomo ben Moses Soncino: the actual printer however was Abraham ben Rabbi Chajjim de Tintori.

Our copy is quite complete and it is needless to remark that complete copies of Hebrew early printed books are of the greatest rarity. Indeed we could not trace a copy of the above book to have been on the market since L. Rosenthal’s copy in his catalogue „Hebräische Inkunabeln”, no. 22. But this copy was incomplete.

Our copy is in good condition, only the first leaves are partly stained and browned, also the leaf with the beautiful woodcut border, which is rather narrowly shaved on upper and outer margin; the first leaves (register) and last leaves strengthened on inner margin and slightly damaged; one leaf in the second vol. is torn affecting some letters. Some contemp. MS. notes in Hebrew.

Only 2 copies in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 46 JOHANNES DE FRANCKFORDIA. Sermones. Ulm, (Conrad Dinekmüt, about 1478).

Fol. Gothic letters, 31 lines, 144 unnn. leaves without sign. Contemporary wooden boards, covered with blind stamped pigskin, one clasp (slightly rubbed and wormed). Frs. 600.—

Hain-Cop.* 7352. Proctor 2558. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 533.

According to the Brit. Mus. Cat. the first book from this press, beautifully printed with Dinekmüt's first type which is a very characteristic and remarkable one of bold design.

EDITIO PRINCEPS.

The first and last ll. slightly wormed, the last leaf stained and repaired in margins, otherwise a good and large copy in a contemporary binding.

- 47 JOHANNES DE FRANCKFORDIA. Sermones. Ulm (Conr. Dinekmüt, ab. 1478).

Fol. Goth. letter, 31 lines, 144 unnn. leaves; rubricated throughout. Bound with:

QUADRAGESIMALE VIATORIS. (Augsburg, Monastery of SS. Ulrich and Afra, not after 1476).

Rom. letter, 38 lines, 58 unnn. leaves (last blank), capitals supplied in red, rubricated throughout, initials supplied in red. Very nice binding, blind stamped calf over wooden boards, the outer and inner borders on front cover richly adorned with medal portraits, fine ornamental stamps; on back cover, the same outer border and as middle piece 3 large rollstamps also adorned with medal-portraits; clasps gone, slightly dam. on the back. Inside of frontcover the exlibris of the monastery of Wessobrunn. (Fine original binding of the beginning of the 16th century.) Frs. 1500.—

1. Hain-Cop.* 7352. Proctor 2558. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 533.

According to the Brit. Mus. Cat. the first book from this press, beautifully printed with Dinekmüt's first, very characteristic type. EDITIO PRINCEPS.

Fine copy. Slight wormholes on the first and second leaf.

2. Not in Hain. Copinger 5002. Proctor 1637. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 340. A very rare book. Copinger remarks: "The true title seems to be „Iter viatoris per quadragesimam. Printed under Pflantzmann's direction from a copy in the handwriting of Conradus von Schenkstein accord. to a note in the Cambridge copy."

Fine copy, only some leaves a little cut rather short.

No copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 48 JOSEPHUS, FLAVIUS. De antiquitate Judaica. De bello Judaico. (Translated by Epiphanius Scholasticus). Augsburg, Johann Schüssler, 1470.

Folio. Gothic letter, 2 col., 50 lines, 287 unnl. ll. without sign. Rubricated. With a large illuminated capital with a floral border along three sides, painted with several colours on goldground, many large capitals in red, green, violet and blue in the style of the „Maiblumen-capitals“ and numerous smaller capitals supplied in red. Original binding, wooden boards covered with blind stamped pigskin, palmettes, rectangular floral stamps etc. With two clasps. Frs. 5000.—

Hain-Cop.* 9451. Proctor 1589. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 327.

First dated edition and probably EDITIO PRINCEPS of these two important works of the famous Jewish historian and military commander. First product from the press of Schüssler who has printed only during three or four years. It is delicately printed with his very nice Gothic type which is very similar to the beautiful first type of Günther Zainer. The book is divided in two parts, the imprint of the first, containing the Jewish Antiquities, was finished (according to the colophon) on 28th June, 1470, the second, containing the Jewish War, on the following 23rd August.

The Antiquities of the Jews is the most important of the works of Josephus, and one of the greatest of all antiquity. It covers in 20 books the history of the Jews from the creation of the world to the outbreak of the war with Rome. It was finished in 93 A. D. Its purpose was to glorify the Jewish nation in the eyes of the Roman world. It is of greatest interest, that this work contains accounts of John Baptist and Jesus, which may account for the fact that Josephus' writings were rescued from oblivion by the Christians. But the description of Jesus as „a wise man, if indeed one should call him a man“ can hardly be genuine, and the assertion „this was the Christ“ is equally doubtful, unless it be assumed that the Greek word Christos had become technical in the sense of false – Christ or false-prophet among non-Christian Jews. (Encyclop. Brit.)

There is a great dispute about the genuineness of the above mentioned passages but the last scientific researches state that this passages are really by Josephus and not asserted by later hands. (See reproduction of this part of the text.) — The „Jewish War“, the oldest of Josephus' extant writings, was written towards the end of Vespasian's reign (79). Its purpose in all probability was, in the first instance, to exhibit to the Babylonian Jews the overwhelming power of Rome and so to deter them from repeating the futile revolt of the Jews of Palestine.

Very fine and very large copy of this delicately printed monumental work, adorned with many painted initials and bound in the well preserved original binding. Rough edges, some old marginal notes and underlines, some insignificant brown stains.

- 49 LOCHER, JACOBUS. Epitoma rhetorices. Carmen ad diuam Catherinam. N. p. d. (Freiburg im Breisgau, Friedrich Riedrer, ea. 1496.)

4^{to}. Gothic letters, 36 lines, 20 unnn. leaves. With some calligraphic woodcut capitals. Hf. vell. Frs. 400.—

Hain-Cop.* 10156. Proctor 3220. Brit. Mus. Cat. III. p. 697.

First edition of a rare product of Riedrer, the second Freiburg Printer. Very few books were printed in this town and nearly all are very scarce.

An address on the recto of last leaf by Lodier to Riedrer gives thanks to him as printer of the book and is dated Freiburg, 24th February, 1496.

The copy is slightly stained in margins. On the title page a few letters of the first line are erased, some underlines.

Only the Library of Congress in U. S. A. possesses this book.

No other copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 50 LOCHMAIER. MICHAEL. Parochiale curatorum. Hagenau, Heinrich Gran, 1498.

4^{to}. Gothic letter, 34 lines, 2 col., 151 unnn. leaves with sign. (the 13th. blank, is wanting), many capitals supplied in red, rubricated throughout. Nice contemporary binding, wooden boards covered with blind stamped brown calf, border with hunting scenes, three compartments with scroll work. On the upper cover the stamped title "Paroch: lodh". Clasp gone. Frs. 240.—

- 51 LOMBARDUS. PETRUS. Glossa magistralis Psalterii. N. p. d. (Nürnberg. Johann Sensenschmidt, ca. 1475.)

Fol. Finely printed in goth. letter of 2 sizes (text and comment.), 415 unnn. leaves (the first black) without sign., 45 lines. Contemp. binding of wooden boards covered with brown leather richly stamped, 2 catches for clasps. Frs. 900.—

Hain* 10202. Proctor 2202. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 408.

Editio princeps of this famous work by the great scholastic author. It consists principally of citations of the old fathers a. o. viz. Gregorius, Hieronymus, Ambrosius, Cassiodorus, Alcuin, Remigius, Origines, Isidorus etc.

At the top of many pages are printed the names of two or more of the authors quoted, with the symbols used to denote them.

Our copy of this book, printed in one of the most beautiful types, is in splendid condition. The first and last leaves slightly stained on upper margins, the last leaves slightly wormed. 2 leaves are double. From the monastery Wiblingen with inscription.

Only one copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 52 LYRA. NIC. DE. Postilla super psalterium. — The same. Postilla super IV Evangelii cum additionibus domini Pauli Burgensis episcopi et cum Replicationibus fratris Mathei Doringk ord. minor. Mantua, Paul of Butzbach, 1477.

Fol. Gothic type, double columns of 52 and 50 lines, 247 ll. (the first blank apparently missing) + 244 ll., first and last blank missing. Beautiful calligraphic initial at the beginning of each part, other initials coloured in red. Original binding of brown leather over wooden boards; wormed (repaired). Two clasps. Frs. 900.—

1) Hain (not seen) 10376. Not in Proctor. Reichling I, p. 164 (describing this identical copy but wrongly, since the first gathering in this copy has only seven leaves; consequently the beginning of text as quoted on a, and the first blank ist wanting.)

2) Hain* 10386. Proctor 6893.

Two early Mantua-books of which the first seems to be very rare indeed since this appears to be the only copy recorded anywhere. — The books are printed in a very gracefull type. There is a break carefully mended in first leaf. Some wormholes in first and last leaves, otherwise the copy is in very fine condition and the calligraphic pen-work of the initials most attractive. The fly-leaves are leaves of a XIVth century vellum MS. on Canon-Law.

- 53 LYRA, NICOLAUS DE. Ord. Min. Moralia super Bibliam. Mantua, Paul of Butzbach, 1481.

Fol. Finely printed in a small Gothic letter, double columns of 52–54 lines and heade-line to a full-page. 270 unnn. ll. including one leaf blank, without catchwords. MS.-foliation in top right hand corner and MS. guide letters. At beginning a remarkable initial, painted in blue, surrounded by red pen ornaments and numerous other capitals in the text. Vellum. Frs. 500.—

Hain-Cop.* 10375. Proctor 6897.

The last product of the press of Butzbach, who has printed only 18 books at Mantua (s. Haebler, Deutsche Buchdr. d. 15. Jh. im Auslande, p. 71). — On fol. 1b a letter from Brother Ludovicus a Turri of Verona to Franciscus Raimondus, vicar of the Province of St. Antonio. — Pollard, Hawkins Cat. p. 187 says of this printer: Paulus Johannis of Butzbach in the diocese of Mainz may naturally be identified with the „Magister Paulus“ who with his brother Teuton „Magister Georgius“ and the aid of Columbinus of Verona produced the Mantua Dante of 1472, and perhaps some other books usually attributed to Pietro de Micheli. When he began working by himself he used different types and, avoiding classics, published chiefly legal and theological books, all in Latin. . . — On first page (blank) the MS. note: „Al padre Vicario fra kuptyla“. in the text some MS marginal notes, on leaf 258b (blank) an old MS alphabetical register of chapters.

The copy is browned and waterstained throughout and at the end damaged by worms on the inner margins. The first leaf repaired on inner margin without loss of text.

Only 5 copies in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 54 MARASCHIS, BARTHOL. DE. Oratio coram Paulo II. (Rome, Joh. Phil. de Lignamine), 1475.

Fol. Rom. letter, 8 leaves, 30 lines. Bds. Frs. 1500.—

Hain (not seen) 10744. Reidling III, p. 101. An excessively rare early occasional imprint by the first press of Lignamine.

Reidling only knows 1 defect. copy in the Bibl. Nat. Neapol.
No other copy known.

- 55 (MEDER, JOHANNES). Quadragesimale novum de filio prodigo et de angeli ipsius admonitione. Basel, Michael Furter, 1495.

8vo. Gothic letter, 2 col., 34 lines, 232 unnn. ll. with sign. (the last l. blank), capitals supplied in red. With 18 fullpage woodcuts, illustrating the Story of the Prodigal Son, and the nice printer's device at end (Weil. Die deutschen Druckerzeichen, p. 45). Original blind stamped brown calf over wooden boards, on the front cover a nice border with hunting scenes, on the under side a border formed by interlaced cablework, with clasp. (Back slightly repaired).

Frs. 2600.—

Hain*-Cop. 13628. Proctor 7728. Brit. Mus. Cat. III, p. 783. Weisbach, Baseler Buchillustration no. 50 (with reproduction). Stodmeyer & Reber p. 79, 7. Schreiber V, 4604 ("gravures sur bois très importantes") Muther 469.

EDITIO PRINCEPS. Very handsome small edition with very telling cuts. In the fifty sermons, of which the work consists, a series of conversations occur between the prodigal and the Angel or good genius by whom he is everywhere accompanied. The author of this work is Johann Meder, a Franciscan living in the middle of the 15th cent.

Nice copy in the original binding. In the first three leaves a small worm-hole, a few old marginal notes, notes of ownership on title.

Only 3 copies in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

See reproductions on page 37.

- 56 MEXIA, FERNAN. Nobiliario. Sevilla, Pedro Brun and Juan Gentil, 1492.

Fol. Goth. letter, double columns of 48 lines, 96 unnn. ll., on two pages printed in red and black, numer. fine ornamental initials, 65 small heraldic woodcuts of coats of arms, banners etc. Old limp vellum (Spanish original binding). Frs. 5000.—

Hain-Cop.* 11133. Haebler 411. Proctor 9545.

EDITIO PRINCEPS of the Heraldry of the Spanish nobility.

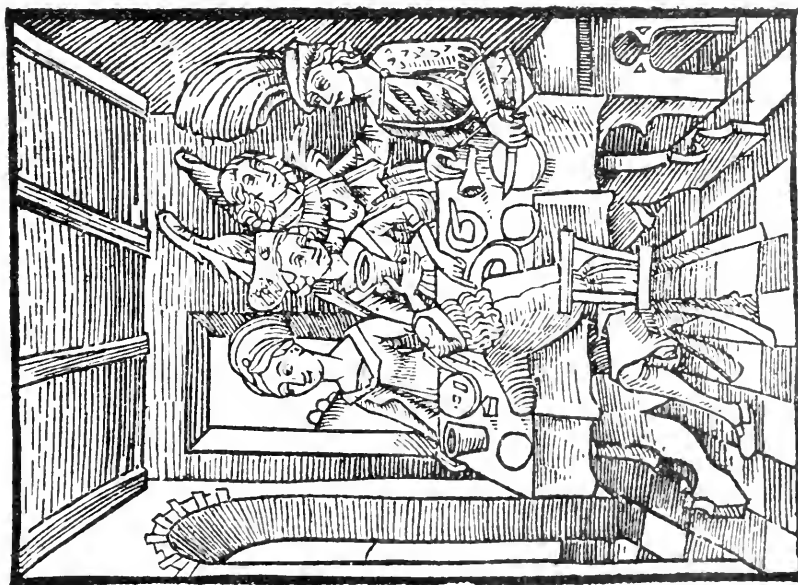

Pedro Brun is known to have printed very few books only. He began his career by printing a book at Tortosa in company with Spindeler in 1477; the following year the two printers produced two books at Barcelona; after which Brun disappears until he is found printing the present book at Seville in company with Juan Gentil. Only two other books are ascribed to this partnership but without Gentil's name. (See Haebler, Gesd. d. span. Frühdruckes p. 124-130.)

A very rare and interesting book printed at Sevilla in Spanish language. Very fine copy, only some headlines are slightly shaved, otherwise large copy. The woodcuts are not shaved as usually.

Only an imperfect copy in the Brit. Mus. and only 4 copies in U. S. A. acc. to Census.

Hain (without seeing it) -Cop. 11488. Proctor 778. Brit. Mus. Cat. I, p. 172.

Interesting juridical work with many practical instructions for advocates, judges etc. An extensive section contains an epistolary-guide for episcopal secretaries and advocates.

This important work is often printed during the last years of the 15th cent. This rare edition is the product of an unassigned Strasburg printer, who is perhaps identical with Wilhelm Schaffener. It is printed with three different types the text type of which is nearly not distinguished from Schaffener's type 1. But the title type measuring 160 mm. is unknown.

Clean and very large copy with rough edges, a few old MS. notes

An interesting incunabulum dealing in five chapters with commercial contracts and transactions, compiled by the famous reformer and diplomat Joannes Nider (1380-1438).

Fine large copy of this nice, early imprint from the first Cologne-press. Ulrich Zell introduced printing into Cologne in or before 1466. He calls himself in many imprints "clericus diocesis Maguntinensis", he learnt to print probably from Lust and Schoeffer.

Only 1 copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

Hain-Cop.* 11783. Proctor 2692. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, 576.

Very rare like all specimens from the two early presses at Reutlingen in Württemberg. There is still some doubt as to the assignation of a number of books printed in Reutlingen, but whether printed by one or the other of the two printers their connexion with Reutlingen is undoubted. The present volume forms part of a series of ten books attributed by Proctor to Otmar, but assigned to Greyff in the Brit. Mus. Cat. Our catalogue is obviously not the place to deal with this question which causes some difficulties and requires an examination of the types used by both printers; for particulars relating to this matter we refer to the Brit. Mus. Cat. vol. II, Introd. pp. XV-XVI and p. 573, further Voulliéme, Die deutschen Drucker des 15. Jahrhunderts, p. 136-7.

A famous book which passed through a number of editions during the XVth century. It is a moral treatise on the decalogue, and contains, in the 9th-11th chapter of the first commandment, several interesting passages relating withcraft, sorcery and superstition on which the author, who was a Dominican, expresses his own and rather primitive opinions on these subjects.

Good copy, with broad margins, but wormed at beginning and towards end, and waterstained in places; there are also stains through the red colour having soaked through the paper.

Only 2 copies in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 60 NIDER, JOH. Sermones aurei de tempore et de sanctis, cum quadregesimali. N.p.d. (Reutlingen, Joh. Otmar or Michel Greyff, not after 1480).

Fol. Gothic letter, 45 lines, 2 col., 265 unnn. ll., of which l. 1, 155 and 184 blank, without sign. Many capitals supplied in red, rubricated throughout Original binding, wooden boards, covered with blind stamped pigskin (slightly wormed, clasps gone). Frs. 480.—

Hain*-Cop. 11798. Proctor 2695. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 577.

Very rare imprint like all specimens from the two early presses at Reutlingen. There is still some doubt as to the assignation of a number of books printed there, but whether printed by Greyff or Otmar, their connection with Reutlingen is undoubted. Proctor attributes this imprint to the first press of Johann Otmar, but the Brit. Mus. Cat. ascribes it to Greyff's press.

Good and large copy in the original binding, but the first leaves are rather wormed and the margins of a few other ll. are slightly stained by water, a few old MS. notes.

Note of ownership on the first blank l.: Monasterium Althominster. 1542. With engraved bookplate: Ad Bibliothecam Canonice Regularis in Diessen. 1755. (A. Schön sc.)

- 61 ORTOLFF VON BEYRLANDT. Arzneibuch. Augsburg, Anton Sorg, 1479.

Fol. Gothic letter, 34 lines, 4 unnn., 100 n. ll., with „Mai-blumen” capitals and outline capitals in woodcut. Contemporary wooden boards, the back covered with brown calf, one clasp. Frs. 4000.—

Hain* 12113. Not in Proctor. Brit. Mus. Cat. II, p. 347. Osler, Incunabula medica 168.

Extremely rare and highly interesting incunabulum dealing with the popular medicine of the mediaeval period. This edition by Anton Sorg is of greater rarity than the two editions published two years before.

The text of this Arzneibuch was written in the first decades of the 15th century. It is closely related to the Regimen sanitatis and to Megenberg's Buch der Natur, but contains many quite original chapters and passages as well as interesting variants from similar parts in the two books just mentioned. The work deals especially with dietetics, also with anatomy, urine, pulse inflation, sexual life, etc.

An important chapter (I. numb. lx) of more than three pages dealing with wine and with its consequences on healthy and sick persons, and with the effects of drunkenness, relying on the classical authors Avicenna and Almansor.

The copy is rather stained in the margins, in the last leaf there is a wormhole, but otherwise it is a large copy in the original condition.

No complete copy in the British Museum. No copy in the Bodleian Library.

Only 1 copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

EDITIO PRINCEPS of Philolphus' chief poetical work, his "Satyres" one of the foremost literary achievements of Italian Renaissance humanism and a masterpiece of the new Latin poetical style freed from all traces of Mediaevalism

Filelfo (1398 to 1481) one of the most important Italian humanists lived at Padua, Venice, Constantinople, Milan, Rome, and Florence.

Finely printed specimen from Valdarfers famous press. He rightly called himself in the colophon of this book: "huius eximiae artis imprimendi consumatissimum Magistrum" and certainly all his productions show a distinctive elegance of type and page-setting, which justifies this claim.

Large copy, a few small wormholes, stained in places, the blank margin of the first leaf repaired.

- 69 PINTOR, PETRUS. Aggregator sententiarum de praeservatione et curatione pestilentiae. Rome, Eucharius Silber, 1499.

Fol. Gothic letter, 2 col., 47 lines, 92 unnl. ll. with sign., the first blank. With many ornamental capitals. Beautiful Cambridge binding, executed about 1530. In the centre a panel adorned with four vertical bands formed by roll-produced ornaments in five compartments, four of which contain heraldic emblems: The Tudor rose, pomegranate, turreted gateway with portcullis, and fleur-de-lys, each ensigned with the royal crown, the fifth, the binder's trade-mark with the initials NG. The frame is formed by a diaper of quatrefoils within lozenges. On this frame is stamped five times another trade-marke with the initials NS (NICHOLAS SPIERINCK). The spaces between the frame and the edges of the cover are relieved by a lozenge-shaped floral ornament. (Back skilfully repaired, insignificantly rubbed in places.) Frs. 2400.—

Hain (without seeing it) -Cop. 13009. Proctor 3889. Brit. Mus. Cat. IV, p. 119.

The extremely rare EDITIO PRINCEPS of a very interesting and extensive work against the plague, written by the court-physician to Pope Alexander VI to whom the book has been dedicated. The author Pedro Pintor (or Pinter) was born at Valencia (Spain) in 1423. He wrote a. o. some interesting tracts important to the history of the syphilis and practised during many years at Rome. He died 1503.

This work is the rarest of his writings, not mentioned by Hirsch IV, p. 573. It is a lengthy disquisition and embodies in its text the opinions of most of the celebrated physician. It is a detailed treatise on the prevention and cure of pestilence and advances many remedies against this disease.

Very interesting and beautiful original Cambridge binding. A reference to the two binders NG and NS we find in Weale's Bookbindings in the S. Kensington Museum p. XXXVIII and XXIV (with reproductions of the two trade-marks). The initials NG are probably the monogram of Benjamin Nicholas alias Seger, who lived in the middle of the 16th century. The other trade-mark bears the initials of Nicolas Spierinck, belonging to a family of Netherlandish stationers, illuminators, and bookbinders. He settled at Cambridge about 1516.

Early Cambridge book-bindings are of the greatest rarity. Our copy is of good condition. The copy has been skilfully repaired in inner margins and in some places of the back. The old fly-leaves which are taken from a manuscript of the beginning of the 16th cent. are still extant.

Only 1 copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

- 70 PLATINA, BARTHOL. De vita Christi ac Pontificum omnium qui hactenus ducenti et viginti duo fuerunt. (Treviso), Johannes Rubeus of Vercelli, 1485.

Hain-Cop.* 13048. Proctor 6498. Voulliéme Berlin 3617.

From the first press of Joh. Rubeus, otherwise Giovanni Rosso, of Vercelli, who afterwards transferred his press to Venice, after printing eight or nine books altogether at Treviso in the years 1480–85. This is the third or fourth edition of Platina's famous history of the Lives of the Popes, which is the most celebrated of all his productions. It is said of the author that although he has spoken more freely of the Popes than have other catholic historians, he has evidently kept back truths which he had not the courage to announce. Brunet incorrectly states that the edition of 1504 is the first in which the title of John VIII. is given to Pope Joan. But in the present edition, on fol. G₃ we have the whole unabridged and unexpurgated story of the female pope, her succession to Leo III., her misfortune, death, and unhonoured burial, under the heading IOANNES VII.

Platina de Sacchi was secretary to Pope Sixtus IV and died in 1481.

Fine copy, somewhat stained.

Hain-Cop.* 13082. Proctor 5415. Voulliéme Berlin 4413. Brit. Mus. Cat. V., 523.

First edition with the commentary of Joh. Petr. Valla and Bern. Saracenus. The commentary of Saracenus, which surrounds the text, is dedicated to "Francisco Marcello pontifici Tragurino" (Frau in Dalmatia). The commentary of Valla is printed as a special part without the text of Plautus; at the end "Impressum Venetiis aere at impense eruditi viri Marci Firmiani" and dedication to Scaramuccia dei Trivulzi at Milan. Valla seems to have incorporated in his commentary material left by his father Georgius, who is spoken of (2^a) as recently dead.

On fol. fvv^o there are 25 interesting Roman coiners's marks, cut in wood.

On title, written by an old hand: "pie lector ora pro me, ex bibliotheca D. Meldhioris Mühlhauser" and above "Conventus S. Petri Salisburgi" (Benedictine Abby St. Peter at Salzburg). A few MS.-notes in the text.

Except some wormholes at the beginning and end, this is a fine large copy in a contemporary binding.

EDITIO PRINGEPS. Finely printed specimen of an incunabulum printed at Naples. Imprints of Naples with the date and name of the press are extremely rare.

"The Duke di Cassano expatiates, with a sort of rapture, upon this volume, and upon its companion. He calls them 'magnificent' remarking upon the beauty of paper, the splendour of the type and the perfection of the printing". They are doubtless two elegant little tracts . . . The work commences with a prefatory address to the printer, followed by a list of errata which is among the earliest notified errata in the annals of the press . . . The principal title of book tells us that the work treats of „Warlike and Heroic Fortitude" and that it is dedicated to Alfonso Duke Calabria" (Dibdin, Bibl. Spenc. V, p. 99).

The author, an Italian humanist and poet, was born in 1426 at Cerreto. As a diplomatist and state official he played a part of some importance in the affairs of Southern Italy and in the Baron's War, the wars with Rome, and the expulsion and restoration of the Aragonese dynasty. His prose treatises are more useful to students of manners than the similar lucubrations of Poggio. Pontano died in 1503.

Unusually clean and large copy, the last two quires are transposed at the beginning, small stamp on leaf P.

EDITIO PRINCEPS. The first spanish book to contain printed musical notation. A beautiful work elegantly printed in red and black; the notes are printed in black on four red staves. It contains hymns used at processions, offices, responsory songs and other ecclesiastical music.

The printers, the German Meinard Ungut and the Pole Stanislaus founded the first important printing-office at Sevilla; their products are distinguished by the elegance of the types and the whole presswork from many others. They came from Italy where they had worked in the printing-house of Mathias Moravus at Naples. The output of their press at Sevilla was considerable and the present book is one of the finest products of the Spanish typography in general. See Haebler, Die Deutschen Drucker d. XV. Jahrh. im Auslande, p. 264 sqq.

The above copy shows traces of use on margins; a few small tears on margins are carefully mended. The last page is somewhat stained and bears an old inscription, but these small flaws do not trespass, however, on the beauty of the impression. It is a fine copy in an old binding.

It is needless to dilate upon the scarcity of early printed Spanish books. Only 1 copy in U. S. A. (acc. to Census).

Fol. Roman letter, 34 lines, 98 un. ll. with sign. Vellum. Frs. 900.—

Hain*-Cop. 14342. Proctor 6225. Audin 18.

FIRST EDITION of the „Triumph of the Cross”, the principal work of the great Florentine reformer (1452–1498.) Savonarola's writings may be classed in three categories: 1) numerous sermons, collected mainly by Lorenzo Violi, one of his most enthusiastic hearers; 2) an immense number of devotional and moral essays and some theological works of which, Il Trionfo della Croce is the chief. He writes about the superiority of Christianity and compares it to the ideas of the philosophers, astrologers, idolaters, Jews and Mohamedans; 3) A few short poems and a political treatise on the government of Florence.

Although his faith in the dogmas of the Roman Catholic Church never swerved, his strenuous protests against papal corruptions, his realiance on the Bible as his surest guide, and his intense moral earnestness undoubtedly connect Savonarola with the movement that heralded the Reformation.

The first edition of the "Small Schedel" and the second German edition of this famous work.

This monumental work is magnificently illustrated by woodcuts of various sizes. The cuts are copies of such of Michael Wolgemuth and his step-son, Wilhelm Pleydenwurff. Many of the views of the towns appear nearly authentic, the most interesting are as follows: Venice (l. 46), Roma (l. 61), the destruction of Jerusalem (l. 68), Toulouse (first authentic view, l. 77), Florence (l. 95 vo) Cologne (l. 100), Augsburg (l. 100 vo), Regensburg (l. 108), Vienna (l. 109), Nuremberg (l. 109), Constantinople (l. 146), Strassburg (l. 157 vo), Salzburg (l. 172 vo), Erfurt (l. 175 vo), Würzburg (l. 180) etc. etc.

The copy is rather stained in places, some rents in margins partly repaired, from l. 113, col. 2 there are 21 lines supplied by good facsimile. From the large map at end the right second leaf is wanting as it is in nearly all copies. Notes of ownership on title.

"It is clear from the inking that the text was printed in two impressions, the first comprising the first 30 lines, the second comprising the remaining 27 lines and a two-line space".

The last 11 lines, not existing in the above mentioned Kaestlin edition, contain indulgences for the visitors of the new church and regulations for the publication of this bulla.

Einblattdrucke des XV. Jahrh., no. 1355. Copinger 5529. Brit. Mus. Cat. of Incun. II, 362. Five copies only recorded.

The extreme rarity of all original fifteenth-century indulgences is so well-known that it seems needless to comment upon it. This bull, however, deserves a special interest, not only for its typographical beauty, but also as being the earliest extant product connected with the press of Herm. Kästlin who is known to have printed only 8 books and some broadsides in the years 1479–85. Besides, it is notable for bearing the AUTOGRAPH-SIGNATURE OF JUD. PFLANTZMANN, printer at Augsburg, who in his capacity as a notary public and „Fürsprech“ at the ecclesiastical court of Augsburg had to authenticate the impression of the bull.

This bull of indulgences from all sins was given to those who regularly attended at church and gave contributions towards the building of a new church at Nördlingen, a small town in Bavaria, belonging to the diocese of Augsburg.

Slightly damaged at top left-hand corner, dampstained on top and mounted, but a good copy of an extremely scarce broadside w. large margins.

Valla had won a high reputation by his treatise De Elegantis Latinae Linguae. This work subjected the forms of Latin grammar and the rules of Latin style and rhetoric to a critical examination, and placed the practice of composition upon a foundation of analysis and inductive reasoning.

Valla was an Italian humanist, born at Rome about 1406. He became ab. 1435 private secretary to Alfonso V of Aragon. He died ab. 1457.

90 Belluno. – Liber Scholae Sartorum. MS. on vellum of the XVI. and XVII. century. 131 ll. (numbered 1–81, 84–132, 131), 1 l. blank, 10 ll. of paper (at the beg.) $27\frac{1}{2} \times 19$ cm., with different number of the lines. Written partly in fine minuscule, partly in running hand, in the Latin and Italian languages, by various hands. Original Italian binding of wooden boards, back covered with blind stamped calf (sl. wormed, one clasp gone). Frs. 300.—

Collation:

Fol. 1a: Incipit liber scole sartorum (A) D honorem Omnipotentis dei.

Fol. 1b – 6a: List of the deceased magistri, fratres, confratres and laboratores.

Fol. 7a: Duty of the members to say certain prayers for a deceased.

Fol. 8a – 9b: List of the fratres scole sartorum.

Fol. 10b: Ordine di accettare Fratelli esenti et obedienti et di crear li castaldi et massaro.

Fol. 11a – 16b: Special dispositions and regulations.

Fol. 17a – 71b and 87b up to the end: Reditus scole with the contracts of donation, emption and disposal, from 1522–1679. — There is inserted (fol. 72a – 87a) a list of the confratres, magistri, dantes holeum, drapiczzi, fradelli esenti, fradelli obedienti. To the beginning are prefixed 10 leaves of paper: Repertorio overo Taola al presente libro dei instrumenti statuti . . . della Scola di S. Homobon . . . per me Andr. Richafino nodario di quella dall' anno 1601. The end is on fol. 131b: L. di Dio. Franc.^{co} Begona.

The MS. is adorned with nice initials which are curiously painted with heads and faces. Further we make a special mention of the numerous marks of the notaries on the verifications of the single contracts. On the reverse of leaf 42 is a richly decorated inscription to the memory of the writer Andrea Cantilena (died 1586).

According to the statutes of the order the members had to be domiciled at Belluno. Only sartores, cunatores, lanarii or drapararii were admitted. Each member was engaged to hand over yearly on the holidays of S. Petrus and S. Franciscus 11 solidi and 1 pound of oil to the fratres minores.

This interesting MS. which should be rather called a collection of Manuscripts, gives very valuable and exhaustive information about the Schola Sartorum at Belluno. It was founded 1411 and adopted in the 16th century the name Schola S. Homobon (Saint Homobonus is the patron of the tailors). The great number of names, in many cases with dates, and the transactions mentioned in the numerous agreements are important contributions to the history of Belluno. But also for the history of the orders of the XV. and XVI. century the MS. is of an eminent interest on account of the detailed description this example contains. Finally, the MS. is in a good condition and is preserved in its fine original binding.

- 92 Bernhardinus, S. Sermo de conceptione Mariae. Manuscript on paper of the end of the XVth century. 27–50 long lines, 21 : 15 cm, 8 ll. Frs. 50.—

A very finely written, legible German Manuscript of the XVIth century, very important for the history of the alchemy on account of the numerous quotations of names, g. e.: Paracelsus, Blauirius, Bedtold Heuppell, Jakob Rentz, Hans Fleckenstein, Christoph Santner, Abrah. Schintzer, Jonas Jeger, Wilh. Ygell, Schultzius, Jul. Clerus, Albertus Magnus, Rogendorff, Zinsbauer, Bernh. Schmid, Markgraf Ernst u. a.

In very good condition.

- 97 Horae b. Mariae Virginis sec. consuetudinem romane ecclesie. Vellum-Manuscript of the 15th century, written in red and black with gothic letters. 8. 184 ll., 17 long lines, rubricated. 14 full-page, 13 smaller miniatures, many initials. Full brown calf on wooden boards with a fine panel (Annunciation) twice on each side, rebaked and remargined, with red gilt-tooled morocco. Frs. 12.000.—

Very fine specimen of Flemish art. The 14 large miniatures and the beginnings of every chapter are surrounded on all sides, the other pages on outer margin, with a very fine border consisting of flowers, fruits and leaves coloured in blue, red and green and heightened with gold. The full-page miniatures represent:

1. The Crucifixion (fol. 13 b).
2. Jesus and the Theologians (fol. 20 b).
3. The Virgin with the Child (fol. 26 b).
4. Annunciation (fol. 53 b).
5. Visitation (fol. 70 b).
6. Nativity (fol. 81 b).
7. Annunciation to the shepherds (fol. 86 b).
8. Adoration by the Magi (fol. 91 b).
9. Presentation in the temple (fol. 96 b).
10. Massacre of the Innocents (fol. 101 b).
11. Flight into Egypt (fol. 109 b).
12. St. Mary received into Heaven (fol. 115 b).
13. King David (fol. 124 b).
14. The mass for the dead (fol. 143 b).

Besides these there are to be found 13 smaller miniatures representing the saints and many splendidly executed initials, the larger ones painted in colours on gilt ground, the smaller ones in gold on coloured ground.

After the calendar follow the Horae s. crucis (fol. 14 b), the Horae s. spiritus (21 a), Missa s. Mariae et orationes (27 a), Horae s. Mariae (fol. 54 a), Officium B. Mariae virginis (116 a), Septem psalmi penitentiales (125 a), Vigiliae mortuorum (144 a), fol. 123 and 184 blank.

This wonderful manuscript written on finest vellum has been painted by a most prominent Flemish Master of the 15th century. The miniatures are of exquisite beauty and each of the 14 full-page miniatures represents a most remarkable specimen of Flemish art of the 15th century.

The brilliant colours are of uncomparable freshness and in a faultless and untouched state like the whole manuscript.

See Reproductions on plate I and IX.

Continet:

I. Fol. 1a–11b: Brusserius, Philippus Savonensis. Descriptio Terrae Sanctae. 30–34 lin.

Die 3 ersten Initialen in Grün, die übrigen in Rot u. Blau eingezeichnet. Rote Kapitelüberschriften am Rande. Jede Seite beginnt mit einem großen, leicht verzierten Anfangsbuchstaben.

Brasserius oder Brusseri, Philippus, ein Franziskanermönch aus Savona gebürtig, war um 1340 Lector in Paris. Der Papst schickte ihn als Gesandten zum Sultan, um mit diesem Verträge in betreff Jerusalems abzuschließen. (Chevalier I, 718. Jöcher I, 437.)

II. Fol. 11b–121b: Marcus de Venetiis. Sancta Terra Hierosolymitana. 32–36 lin. Von derselben Hand.

Dieses Werk enthält ein Kapitel mit der Beschreibung von Jerusalem und dem Heil. Land; ferner handelt es von den Jacobiten (69b), von Nestorius (71a), den Maroniten (22a), Armeniern (73a), Georgiern (74a), Saducäern (74b), Samaritern (75a), den Bäumen und Pflanzen (79b), Tieren (82a), etc.

Dieses Stück wird hier dem Marcus de Venetiis, d. i. also dem berühmten Weltreisenden Marco Polo zugeschrieben, ist aber in Wirklichkeit identisch mit Jacobus de Vitriaco, Historia orientalis u. umfaßt die 2 Bücher (bei Bongars), die hier in drei zerlegt wurden. Es reicht bis zur Krönung des Grafen Johann von Brienne zum König von Jerusalem.

III. Fol. 121b–122b: Ein Kapitel über „Ebron“ aus dem Werk des Fretellus, des Geographen und Archidiaconus von Antiochien. (Chevalier I, 1611.)

IV. Fol. 123a–231a: Otto episc. Frising. Chronicon. Von einer zweiten Hand geschrieben. 33 lin. rot u. schwarz. Rote Randbemerkungen, Initialen leergelassen oder rot oder blau eingemalt, Kapitelüberschriften in roter Tinte.

Der Verfasser dieser historisch sehr wichtigen Schrift ist der Sohn des Herzogs von Österreich Leopold III. d. Heil. u. dessen Gemahlin Agnes, Abt des neugegründeten Stiftes Klosterneuburg, später Bischof von Freising (gest. 1158). Das Werk liegt in der Fassung des Freisinger Mönches Rahewin oder Ragewin (gest. 1177. Chevalier II, 3866) vor, der sich selbst als den Abbreviator des Chronicon bezeichniet und ein Werk Gesta Friderici Imperatoris verfaßte.

Die Handschrift ist in braunes Leder auf Holzdeckel gebunden. Die diagonal gezogenen Felder des Einbandes sind mit dem Rosenstempel verziert. Der Einband stammt aus dem Ende des XV. Jahrh.

104 Voet van Utrecht, Jan. Pilgrimage to the Holy Places.

Low German manuscript of the XV century, written on paper by a flowing hand. 2 cols. of 33 lines, 22:15½ cm. 12 leaves. Frs. 800.—

Röhricht 95, 233. Very interesting narration of Jerusalem and other Holy Places, which has never been in print. In 1391 the author leaves Jerusalem to visit the Red Sea, Hermopolis in Egypt, Adrianopolis, where he was detained for 8 weeks, Edissa, which he placed in India and the end of the world, the mount Edom, which was the First Paradise, the Tigris and the town Hülna. He told of numerous islands, of their miracles, their wild men and animals, monkeys and songs of the sirens. Then he was, on account of stress of weather, at Amasona, which was ruled over by a Queen. Finally he returned to Jerusalem and wrote this booklet, ending with the praise of God.

Willems 1068. Garraux, Bibl. brasil. 232. Highly esteemed work which contains 1. a treatise De medicina brasiliensi (in 4 books) by G. Piso, a Dutch physician, 2. a posthumous work of G. Marcgraf, a young German scholar who had accompanied Piso on his voyage to Brazil: Historia rerum naturalium Brasiliae, in 8 books, the 8th of them containing a Brazilian grammar and a Brazilian-Latin vocabulary. This latter part has been published by J. de Laet who also added an appendix on the native populations of Chili and Brazil. Small stamp on title, but a very fine copy.

- 119 Ptolemaeus, Claudius. Geographicae enarrationis libri VIII. Ex Bilibaldi Pirckeymheri tralatione, sed ad Graeca et prisca exemplaria a Michaele Villanova (Serveto) secundo recogniti. Vienne (en Dauphiné), Gaspard Trechsel for Hugo a Porta at Lyons, 1541. fol. With 50 fine double page woodcut maps (including America), some diagrams, and many figured woodcut initials, the device of Hugo a Porta on title. Hf. calf. Frs. 900.—

Harris no. 233. The very rare second issue of the famous Servetus edition, many copies of which were suppressed because of the editorship of Servetus who was burnt alive in 1553. On verso of the title the address of Servetus to the Reader. On p. 2 the dedication of the same to Petrus Palmer, archbishop of Vienne, dated prid. Cal. Martii 1541.

After p. n¹ commences the series of the 50 very interesting maps, all double page but one. "A new edition of the Ptolemy of Servetus, with most of the interesting, although often offensive legends to the new maps" (Harris).

The maps which relate to America are as follows:

(no. 27): Typus Orbis descriptione Ptolemaei. — (no. 28) Tabula Terrae Nova. The World Map showing the New Islands. Similar to that in the 1513 edition, (which is one of the earliest printed maps devoted entirely to the New World), with slight changes and the addition of inscriptions. — (No. 49.) Tabula nova totius orbis. Map 49 shows also Africa and the Cape, with references to the Portuguese discoveries. — (no. 50.) Tabula orbis cum descriptione ventorum.

Complete copy of good preservation, a few leaves slightly browned, some wormholes in blank margins, the inner blank margins repaired in places.

- 120 Ptolemaeus, Claudius. Geographicae Enarrationis libri octo, Bilibaldo Pirckheymero interprete. Annotationes Joannis de Regio Monte in errores commissos a Jacobo Angelo in translatione sua. Argentoragi (sic), Johannes Grieningerus, communibus Johannis Koberger impensis excudebat. Anno M. D. XXV. (Strassburg, J. Grüninger, 1525.)

Fol. 82 numbered leaves (including title), 14 unnumbered leaves. 34 unnumbered leaves. "Index Ptolemaei". 49 double-page maps and 1 single-page map. Plate 27 is the large Ptolemaic-world-map. Plate 28 the Oceanus Occidentalis seu TERRA NOVA map. The last is the modern mappemund of the 1513 Ptolemy, but dated 1522 and signed L. F. (= Laurentius Frisius): IN THIS MAP THE NEW WORLD IS LETTERED „America“ FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE WALTSEEMÜLLER'S UNIQUE MAP OF 1507. Wooden boards, covered with pigskin, richly blind tooled, clasps. Frs. 3600.—

Harrisse 136. Add. 78. Nordenskiöld p. 22. 153

An interesting and most rare edition of Ptolemy, which Raidel calls, „omnium, quas vidi, editionum Ptolemaei splendidissima“. The special points of this scarce edition are these:

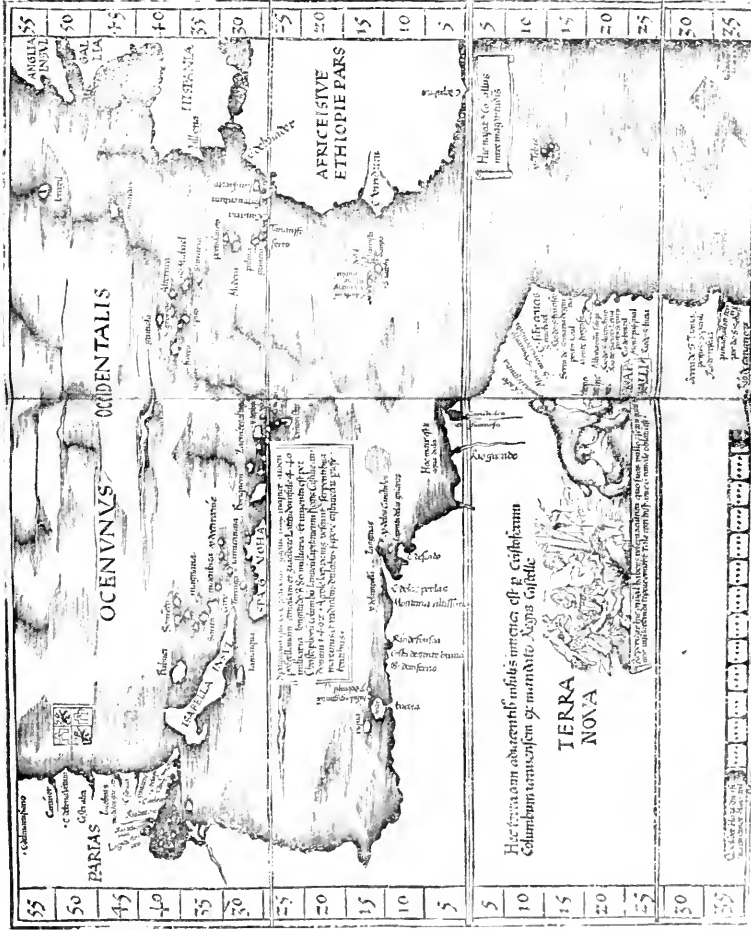

1. On the verso of the "Oceanus Occidentalis" map is the interesting woodcut of Columbus' landing and seeing a naked native woman swimming in the sea. (See Reproduction).
2. On this important map are several legends not found in the earlier issue of 1513 and an inset picture of natives eating serpents instead of bread „et radicibus dulcibus saporem castanearum proferentibus" (i. e. potatoes); also of an animal carrying its young in a pouch like a kangaroo.
3. Woodcuts of natives with monstrously extended lips and an elephant balancing a child on its trunk on the ancient maps of Africa and of Paradise and the Judgment of Paris on those of Asia.
4. Map 49 the "Tabula Moderna Groenlandiae et Russiae" is practically a third world-map and is not found elsewhere, it shows America too and is a very remarkable map of a singular type.
5. Map 50: The signed World-Map of Laur. Frisius, dated 1522.
6. The text is revised by Pirckheymer and much improved and with his interesting Preface. (Dedication to the bishop of Brixen Seb. Sperantius (Sprenger).
7. The Armillary-Sphere on fol. 70 verso and the diagram on the opposite page, both designed by Pirckheymer's close friend, Albrecht Dürer. See Dodgson I. p. 265, 342. Passavant III. p. 190, 202. Retberg 257.
8. The decorative borders and curious initials composed of mathematical and nautical instruments in the first part of the text.
9. The maps are printed on the inner side of the sheets and have mostly a description printed on the recto of the first leaf. On the reverses of nearly all maps are very interesting and well executed woodcuts.
10. The first mention of the ancient geographer Agathodaemon on fol. 82, who is supposed to have composed the Ptolemaic maps.

There is a library-note on top margin of title-leaf.

A magnificent copy of the 4th Strassburg-Ptolemy, in a very fine contemporary binding, from the typographical point of view one of the most beautiful of all editions.

Exceedingly rare.

See Plate X and the Reproduction on the next page.

No. 120. Ptolemaeus. 1525. (much reduced)

- 122 Raleigh, Walter. Judicious and select Essayes and observations. Upon the first invention of Shipping, The Misery of Invasive Warre. The Navy Royall and Sea-Service. With his Apologie for his voyage to Guiana. London 1650. sm.-8^{vo}. Fine engr. portr. of the author (Vaughan sc.) Old calf. (reb.). Frs. 500.—

First collected edition of Sir Raleigh's writings. Very rare with the fine portr. of great interest is his "Discours of the invention of Ships, Anchors, Compass etc.", beginning with the Antiquité and giving the history of ships in all countries.

Important for the early history of South America is his "Apology for his voyage to Guiana". "In 1595 he sailed on a voyage of exploration with a view to conquest on the coast of South-America. The object was undoubtedly to find gold mines, and Raleigh had heard the wild stories of El Dorado which had been current among the Spaniards for long. His account of his voyage "The discovery of Guiana" is the most brilliant of all the Elizabethan narratives of adventure . . ."

- 123 Report 1th, Vth—IXth, XVIIth part 1, and XVIIIth 2 parts, Annual, of the Bureau of Ethnology to the secretary of the Smithsonian Institution by J. W. Powell. Together 9 vol. Washington 1881—99. 4. With numerous plates, maps, mostly coloured, and ill. in the text. Orig.-cloth. Frs. 250.—

Most interesting sumptuous ethnological work with essays dealing with the customs, habits religion, language etc. Of all American aborigines (all races of Indians of all parts of America) by J. W. Powell, H. C. Jarro, G. Mallery, W. J. Hoffmann, J. Mooney, E. Stevenson, Ch. C. Royce, W. Matthews, C. Maccauley, J. Murdoch, E. W. Nelson, Franz Boas, C. Thomas, W. J. McGee, C. Mindelleff, J. W. Fewkes a. o. The first volumes are out of print and rare.

Basileae, Mhd. Isingrin, 1543. fol. W. printer's mark on the title and 20 woodc. maps, 3 of them double-page, 1 full-page. Hf. vellum. Frs. 240.—

Very interesting edition, as containing a double-page map of Asia between the pp. 160 and 161, on which America appears („Terra incognita"). — The maps of the Solinus of which the maps of England, the Holy Land and Switzerland are worthy of note, belong properly to the period between the issue of the first Novus Orbis (1532) and the Münster Ptolemy of 1540. — Last leaves browned on top, otherwise a very good, fresh copy.

- 127 Solis, Ant. de. Istoria della Conquista del Messico, della popolazione, e de progressi nell' America settentrionale, conosciuta sotto nome di Nuova Spagna. Scritta in Castigliano et tradotta in Toscano. Sec. impr. Veneta. Venezia, Poletti, 1715. 4^{to}. With the author's portrait and 7 engr. plates. Vell. Frs. 48.—

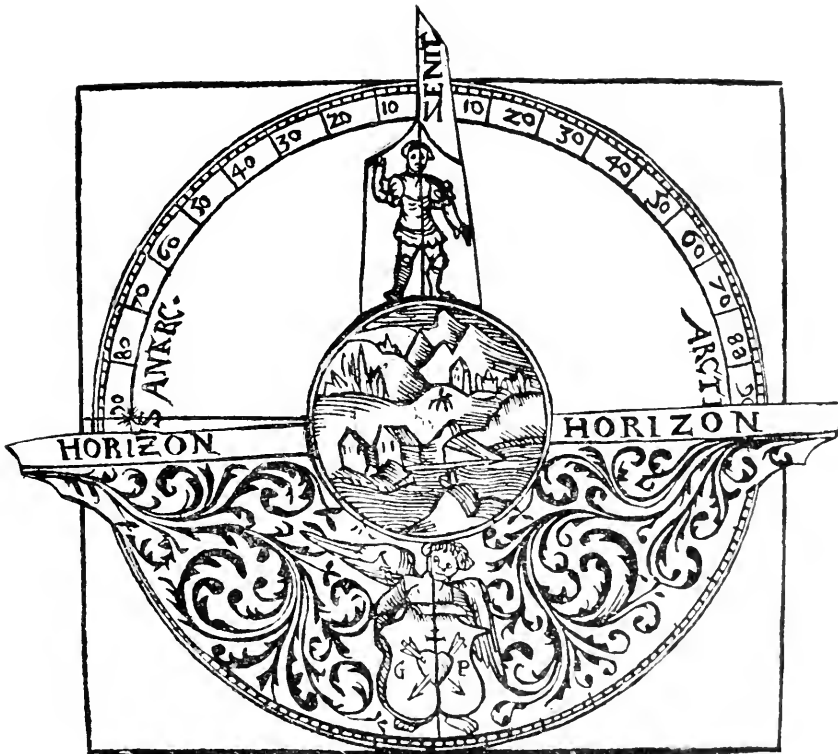

Important work on Mexico. Among the plates an interesting portrait of Montezuma and Cortes. Fine copy.

- 128 Ulloa, George, Juan et Antoine de Ulloa. Voyage historique de l'Amérique Méridionale fait par ordre du Roi d'Espagne. Avec une Histoire des Ynkas du Perou et avec des observations astronom. et physiques faites pour déterminer la grandeur de la terre. 2 vols. Amsterdam et Leipz. 1752. in-4. Orné de 2 frontisp., vign. s. l. titres et de 54 figures gravées, plans et cartes. Demi-veau anc. Frs. 60.—

Parmi les planches qui sont gravées par Punt, Folkema, Du Flos, de Bakker d'après Picart, Debrie sont de plus grand intérêt celles qui représentent des mœurs et des scènes de la vie politique des Ynkas (exécutions etc.). Les pl. 19 et 31 manquent. Bel exemplair.

With 85 full-length outline woodcuts of the proportions of human frame, male and female, at all ages, and many other diagrams of heads etc., all by Dürer. Full old marbled calf, with the gilt tooled Supra-Libros of J. M. de Porten on each cover, the back richly gilt, marbl. edg. Frs. 600.—

Dodgson I, p. 265. C. F. Murray, Cat. Nr. 152.

The very rare first Latin edition of this famous work with the original woodcuts by Dürer. The text was translated by Joach. Camerarius. This first Latin translation contains the Books 1 and 2 of the original German work. The Books 3 and 4 were published two years later. On the title there are some verses to the Reader and Dürer's monogram A D. On l. A₅ we find the explanation of the terms used relating to the Human Body in Latin, Greek and German. On l. A₆ a poem by H. Eobanus Hessus.

On title note of ownership: Sit Nomen Domini Benedictum. Joannes Marcus lib: Baro de Porten Ao. 1688.

Some insignificant stains in places, some leaves are cut rather short in margins, otherwise a very good copy.

Astronomy

- 160 Alfraganus. Elementa astronomica, arabice et latine. C. notis ad res exoticas sive orientales, quae in iis occurrunt. Opera Jacobi Golii. Amsterdam 1669. sm.-4^{to}. 6 unnn. + 524 numb. + 10 unnn. ll. (109 each in Arabic and in Latin. 306 of notes of Jac. Golius in Latin). Title in red and black, also in Arabic and Latin, woodcut borders at beginning of each part. Brown French 18th century calf binding, fillet borders on sides, gilt back (Bozerian). Frs. 120.—
Brunet I, 179. A very interesting astronomical book of Mohammed ben Ketir el Fergani, an Arabian learned man of 9th century, Slightly browned, some MS. notes in margins and ownership entry on title and flyleaf. Rare.
- 161 Biancani, Jos. Sphaera mundi seu Cosmographia demonstrativa: In qua totius Mundi fabrica, una cum novis Tychonis, Kepleri, Galilei, aliorumque Astronom. adinventis continetur. Accessere I. Brevis introd. ad Geographiam. II. Apparatus ad Mathematic. studium. III. Edometria i. e. Geometrica tractatio de Edho. IV. Novum instrum. ad Horologia describenda. Mutinae 1634–35. Fol. With numer. woodcut-diagrams and 3 engr. plates of observations and apparatus at end. Old vellum. Frs. 90.—
Riccardi p. 127. Nr. 23. An important book of this famous author (1566–1624) cont. an interesting chapter on the echo. This is the first edition cont. the fourth part on horologies, which has a new title and new numeration (24 pp.). An unnumb. leaf after the last num. leaf, perhaps the title for the following 3 plates is missing. Very rare.
- 162 Blaeu, Guil. Institutio astronomica de usu Globorum et Sphaerarum caelestium ac terrestrium duabus partibus adornata, una sec. hypothesis Ptolemaei per terram quiescentem, Altera juxta mentem W. Copernici per terram nobilem. Amstelaed, ap. Joh. Blaeu, 1655. With numer. astronomical diagrams. Old vellum (back dam.). Frs. 60.—
First Latin edition of this interesting work on the use of globes and maps. Blaeu was an intimate friend of Tycho de Brahe.

- 163 Cecho d'Ascoli. L'Acerba. Venice, Joanne Tacuino, 1519. 8vo. 34 numb. ll. Title printed in red and black. With two large beautiful woodcuts, representing astrologers with celestial-globe, 76 smaller cuts, illustrating astronomical figures, animals etc., at the end the device of Tacuino (See Essling, last vol., p. 165). Vellum. Frs. 300.—

Brunet I, col. 1714. Essling II, 1 no. 1334.

Good copy of this encyclopaedic poem by the famous Italian Cecho d'Ascoli (1257—1327), whose popular name is Francesco degli Stabili. His Acerba consists of four books in sesta rima. The first book treats of astronomy and meteorology, the second of stellar influences, the third of minerals and of love of animals, the fourth propounds and solves a number of moral and physical problems. —

With some marginal notes.

See Reproduction on page 75.

- 164 Comets. — Collection of 44 important tracts on Comets, their astronomical observation, their signification and influence on men, in German and Latin etc. 1575—1619. 4to. With many woodcuts and engravings on the titles and in the text. Together in 1 vol. Vell. Frs. 600.—

Nr. 1 deals with the conjunction of Saturnus and Jupiter in 1603 (by Krabbe). — Nr. 2—6 the comet of 1604 (by Dav. Fabricius, Dav. Herlicius, Paul Nagel a. o.) — Nr. 7 the comet of 1596 (by Grothenius). — Nr. 8—42 the terrible comet of 1618, a sinister omen of the disastrous thirty years war that began in the same year (by Kepler, Crüger, Welper, Ursinus, Erasm. Schmidt, Origanus, Hebenstreitt, Hersbach, Ehinger, Deutschenberg, Herlicius. Arthusius, Dasenius, Wendler, Koepen, Nagel, Salveld, Garth a. o.) — Nr. 43—44 the comet of 1572 (by Dav. Chytræus and Adr. Pauli).

Especially we call attention to nr. 8. Joh. Kepler, Prognosticon, Von aller handt bedraulichen Vorbotten künfftigen Vbelstands, in Regiments- vnd Kirdhensachen, sonderlich von Cometen vnd Erdbidem auff das 1618. u. 1619. Jahr. O. O. 1619. 4to. 12 unn. ll. This very rare treatise seems to be unknown to bibliographers.

Extremely rare and interesting collection of treatises on comets of highest importance to the history of astronomy and principally to the history of comet observation.

A detailed list of the collection will be sent on application.

- 165 Galilei, Galileo. Opere, in questa nuova edizione insieme raccolte e di varii trattati non piu stampati accresciute. Bologna 1655—1656. 2 voll. With frontisp., Portr. of Galilei, 1 plate and many woodcuts and diagrams. 4to. Hf. vell. Frs. 180.—

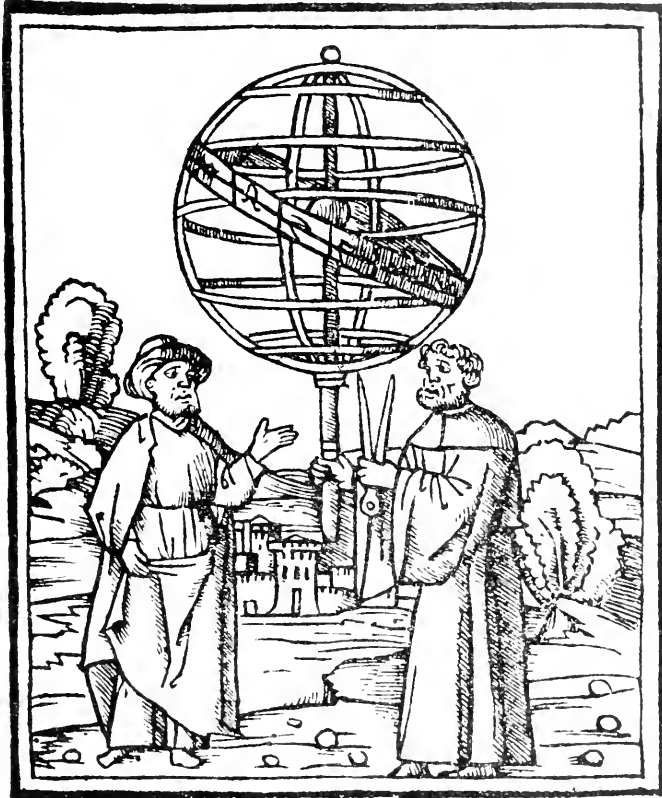

Gamba 482. Riccardi I, 518/19. First edition of Galilei's collected works including several works printed the first time. At Gamba and Riccardi an extensive description of the very rare and important edition. Large copy, somewhat waterstained.

- 166 Ganassonus, Petrus. Regule dignissime de electione & de dar principio a qualunque cosa con dignissimi notandi de astrologia redacte in vulgare . . . con le regole de geometria vulgare a mesurar terreni feni muri biave vini & altri superficiali & corpi. Brixie, per Angelum Britannicum, 1505. 4. 28 ll. with many astronomical and geometrical diagrams. Hf. vellum. Frs. 60.—

This interesting small book seems to be quite unknown to bibliographers. It cont. astronomical calculation, the cubature of the sphere, cylinders, pyramids, prisms, wine-casks etc.

- 167 (Honorius Augustodunens.) M. Elucidarius. Von allerhandt geschöpffen Gottes, den Engeln, den Hymeln, Gestirns, Planeten, vnd wie alle Creaturen geschaffen seind auff erden. Auch wie die Erd inn drey Thail gethailt, vnn dero Länder . . . auss Plinio Secundo, Solino, vnn d andern Welddbesdreybern, ain kurtze vnd lustige anzaygung. Augsburg, H. Stayner, 1543. sm. 4^{to}. 40 un. leaves. With a woodcut on title (by J. Breu the Elder), 4 full-page woodcuts and 29 smaller ones in the text. Hf. vell. Frs. 180.—

A curious popular booklet, at first taken from the physical works of Honorius, later on completed by others suited to circumstances. Schorbach, Studien über das deutsche Volksbuch Lucidarius, p. 103, quotes an edition of 1544, also printed by Stayner, and declares it to have escaped notice. Also Jungmann in his 'Historie literatury české', p. 33, quotes only the 1544 edition. The interesting woodcuts are not signed anywhere, among them a mappemund, Atlas bearing the globe, and many astronomical representations in the text.

On fol. C₁ a passage relating to America; besides we quote from the contents: Vom ersten Thail der weldt, Asia, vom andern Thail, Europa, vom dritten Thail, Aphrica, des Behe mreichs anfang, Vngerlandt, Engelland, vom mond, von schöpfung des Kinds, wie alle ding ain end nemen &c.

A good and perfect copy; some marginal notes and underlinings by a former owner.

- 168 Lansberg, Phil. Tabulae motuum coelestium perpetuae. Item, novae et genuinae motuum coelestium theoricarum et Astronomicarum observationum Thesaurus. Middelburgi Zelandiae 1653. Fol. 41 + 180 + 184 pp. — The same. In Quadrantem tum Astronomicum, tum Geometricum, nec non in Astrolabium introductio, Omnibus militiae prefectis, machinarum magistris, Mercaturam exercentibus, Geodactis etc. apprime utilis Lat. op. J. Franci. Middelburgi Zelandiae 1635. With a remarkable engrav. on title showing two astronomers standing in a landscape with quadrants and two engraved folding plates of astron. designs. 30 pp. — The same. Sphaera plana, a Ptolomaeo Astrolabium dicta. Interpr. J. Francio. Middelburgi Zelandiae 1636. With 2 large folded astronomical plates. 27 pp. — Lansberg, Jacob. Apologia, pro commentationibus Phil. Lansbergii in motum Terrae diurnum et Annum: Adversus Libertum Fromondum et Joan. Bapt. Morinum. Middelburgi Zelandiae 1633. 4^{to}. Interfoliated with folio leaves. 131 pp. The whole bound in old vellum. Frs. 240.—

The astronomical work of Lansberg, famous astronomer (1561–1632) in First Editions. His writings are very rare. At end an apologetic writing of his son, defending the father's Copernicus-theory. Splendid copy.

- 169 — Sphaera plana, a Ptolomaeo Astrolabium dicta. Interpr. Joa. Francio. Middelburgi Zelandiae, 1636. fol. With a large engraved folding plate at end. Bds. Frs. 60.—

The copperplate is slightly defective, a small portion of lower margin being cut off by the binder's knife.

- 170 — Horologiographia plana: in qua omne genus sciotericorum horologiorum . . . ostenditur. Middelburgi Zelandiae, 1663. fol. With numerous geometr. designs. Bds. Frs. 50.—

MS notes on back of title-leaf and in places of text.

- 171 — In Quadrantem tum astronomicum, tum geometricum, nec non in Astrolabium introductio. Middelburgi Zelandiae, 1635. fol. With a remarkable small engrav. on title, showing two astronomers standing in a landscape with quadrants, and two engraved folding plates of astron. designs. Bds. Frs. 80.—

Rare and early astronomical treatise on the construction and use of quadrants. One of the two plates is slightly defective on lower left corner, a small portion of white paper being torn off, not, however, affecting the design.

- 172 Maginus, Joh. Ant. Novae coelestium orbium theoricæ congruentes cum observationibus N. Copernici. Venetiis, Dom. Jenarius, 1589. 4^{to}. 14 unn. ll., 115 numb. ll. With engraved title and many astronomical woodcuts. Old vellum. Frs. 90.—

Riccardi p. 65. Editio princeps. Maginus (1555—1617) made a special study of the works of Copernicus. He was a famous Astrologer in his time and worked for the emperor Rudolph II and the pope Gregorius XIII. It is recorded that he was extremely successful in his astrological predictions.

- 173 Monte, Guido Ubaldo del. Planisphaeriorum Universalium Theorica. Pisauri (Pesaro) Hier. Concordia 1579. 4^{to}. 4 unn. ll., 128 numb. pp. and t l. With woodcuts and numerous diagrams. Fine copy in old limp vellum. Frs. 90.—

Riccardi p. 179. „Raro e pregiato“. G. Libri: „On trouve dans ce livre des indications et des théorèmes qui méritent d'être cités. M. Chasles a remarqué à la vérité, qu'un mode de construction de l'ellipse que Stévin attribuait à G. Ub. del Monte et qui est exposé dans cet ouvrage (p. 124 et seq.) a été connu des anciens; mais on rencontre aussi dans le même ouvrage l'emploi de l'optique et des projections pour démontrer des propriétés relatives à la transformation des figures.“

- 174 Ritter, Franc., von Nürnberg. Speculum Solis, Das ist: Sonnen-Spiegel, Oder Kunstständiger, leichter und grundrichtiger Bericht von den Sonnen Uhren, und was den selbigen angehöret . . . in zweyen Theilen beschrieben, Nunmehr aber mit dem 3. Theil, allerhand neuer Erfindungen vermehret, und mit nothwendigen Kupferstücken gezieret, Durch einen Liebhaber dess Studii Mathematici (Georg Phil. Harsdörffer). Nürnberg 1660. 8. 6 unn. Bl., 12 num. SS., 1 unn. Bl., 70 num. SS., 2 unn. Bl. Mit gestochenem Titel (Paul Fürst exc., P. Troschel scul.), 4 grossen, mehrfach gefalteten Kupfertafeln und vielen Holzschnitten im Text. Pergtbd. Frs. 100.—

Die seltene von Georg Philipp Harsdörffer herausgegebene und bedeutend vermehrte Ausgabe des Speculum Solis des Franz Ritter.

Das Werk besteht aus 3 reich illustrierten Theilen. Der erste handelt von der „Zubereitung der Sonnenuhren“, der zweite „wie man durch Hülff sieben schöner Kupferstück allerley Stunden, sampt dem Aufgehenden und Niedersteigenden, so wol auch der Sonnenzeichen und Höhe, dergleichen die fürnemsten Festtage durch der Sonnen Schatten erlernen soll.“ Der dritte Teil von Harsdörffer enthält „etliche neue Erfindungen, die Sonnen Uhren auf mancherley Weise aufzuzeichnen.“

Vollständiges Exemplar, einige Bl. am Rande etwas beschnitten, mit Verlust einiger Buchstaben der Marginalien. Die Tafeln sind ganz intact.

- 175 Sacrobosco, Joh. de. Trattato della sphaera . . . in volgare Italiana tradotto & con nuoue annotationi didichiarato [da Ant. Brucioli]. Venetia, Franc. Brucioli & frat. 1543. 4. 24 ll. With a worldmap on fol. 24a, many astronomical diagrams and printer's mark within a fine woodcut border. Limp vell. Frs. 120.—

In the same way as in the two British Museum copies the translator's name „Antonio Brucioli“ is obliterated at the beginning.

Speaking and writing against the monks, Ant. Brucioli, incurred suspicion of heresy and was put in prison and sentenced to death, but he obtained pardon and must leave his country. He fled to Venice, where his brothers printed his books.

- 176 Schreckenfuchs, Er. Osw. Primum Mobile h. e. absoluta et perfecta in tabulas directionum Jo. de Montereio, et Geo. Purbadhii, Lucaeque Gaurici addit., Commentaria. Basil. Offic. Henricpetr. 1567. fol. Large woodcut of a globe on title, numer. woodcut diagrams in the text. Old limp vellum. Frs. 80. —

Schreckenfuchs was a famous astronomer, born at Merckenstein in Austria 1511, died at Freiburg i. B. 1579.

Allg. deutsche Biogr. 32, p. 467: „Eine für ihre Zeit sehr achtungswerthe Leistung stellt ferner das „Primum mobile“ dar, welches man heutzutage, da jene Bezeichnung der Fixsternkugel entspricht, ein Lehrbuch der sphärischen Astronomie, die geographische Ortsbestimmung mit eingeschlossen, nennen würde.“ — Fine copy.

Bibles

- 177 Biblia Latina. Biblia sacra utriusque sacramenti. Nuremberg, Fridericus Peypus, 1530. Fol. With large figured handsome title-border, a full-page woodcut on the last leaf by Albrecht Dürer, another nearly full page woodcut by Hans Springinklee (signed), 77 smaller woodcuts in the text by Springinklee and Erhard Schön, and numerous ornamental and figured initials. Contemporary blind stamped black calf over wooden boards (rubbed, back partly damaged).

Panzer VII, 476, 270. Muther 1184. Not in Dodgson.

Frs. 450.—

Rare edition of the finely illustrated so-called „Peypus-Bible“. The beautiful cut by Dürer (Dodgson I, p. 266. Friedländer, Dürer als Kupferstecher p. 125.) with the inscription SANCTA | IVSTICIA |. 1521. | represents two angels supporting the Imperial Arms and the arms of Nuremberg, above this two female allegorical figures. The fine large cut by Springinklee (signed H S K) shows the Nativity. (Dodgson I, p. 409, 79.) The nice cut on f. 9, the Creation of Eve, is also by Springinklee, placed between two upright panels of ornament (Dodgson I, 377, 21 and 23). The handsome titleborder, probably also by Springinklee, represents on the top the „Salvator“, on the left and the right sides the evangelists, and beneath „Ecclesia Christiana“ and „Ecclesia Antichristi“.

All the cuts are in very fine impressions. The title-border is here printed for the first time.

Quite complete copy, the first leaf slightly damaged in blank margin, a few small wormholes in the beginning and at end. Notes of ownership on title.

See Reproduction on page 79.

- 178 Biblia, ad vetustissima exemplaria nunc recens castigata. Venetiis, Hieron. Polus, 1587. Svo. With plenty of woodc. ill. in the text with a small border on both sides, title within a richly adorned border. Brown calf over wooden boards, originally gilt tooled. In the centre of the front cover a man (David?), sword in hand, in background a town; on backcover an ornamental stamp. In the corners an angel seating on a chair. Back slightly dam. Two metal catches, one clasp finely embossed. Gauffred gilt etches. Frs. 450.—

Very nice Buxheim Copy with 3 interesting owners entries by Sigism. Untius (1592), Sigism. Hornstein (1610) and Domus Buxiae (1638). Some few underlinings and ms. entries, inkstains on p. 2–5, otherwise in very good preservation. Splendid original binding.

See Reproduction on plate XI.

- 179 Biblia Germanica. Die gantze Bibel, verteutschet. Zürich, Christ. Froschauer, 1530. Svo. 688 numb. ll., 2 unnn. ll. With 2 printer's devices and woodcut initials. Old blind-tooled brown calf with ornamental borders, on the front-cover the date 1565. Frs. 360.—

Panzer, Entwurf einer Geschichte der deutsch. Bibelübersetzung p. 570, 4. Goeze p. 231, no. 343.

The first edition of this very rare Froschauer-Bible in Octavo printed in one volume. Goeze says: Sie gehört unter die seltensten Ausgaben der Züricher Bibeln. The text is in Swiss dialect.

Marginal notes, notes of ownership on title, the upper margin of the title scribbled on. The first and the last ll. stained, otherwise a quite perfect copy in its original binding. The capitals and initials are painted over with red.

No copy in the British Museum (not no. 3035 aa. 18, described in the Catalogue of Printed Books. Bible. I, p. 191).

No. 177. "The Peypus-Bible". Nürnberg 1530.

- 180 Luther. Biblia, das ist die gantze Heilige Schrift Deutsch. Mart. Luth. Wittenberg, Hans Lufft, 1535. Fol. 244 (statt 246) Blatt. Titel in schöner Bordüre, 1 ganzseitig. Holzschn. (Gott u. die Schöpfung) zahlr. interessante Text-Holzschnitte u. ornament. Initialen m. Monogr. MS = Martin Schaffner. Schwarzer Lederbd. auf Holz, Schließen fehlen, Wurmlöcher am Rückendeckel. Frs. 500.-- Dodgson II, p. 404, 2. Schramm, Luther u. d. Bibel, S. 248–306. Mejer, S. 74.

Die sehr seltene 2. Ausgabe der vollständigen Bibel nach Luthers Übersetzung. Früher für die 1. Ausgabe gehalten, kommt sie jener von 1534 an Seltenheit gleich. Vorliegendes Expl. besteht nur aus den 3 ersten Teilen. Das 1. Buch Mosis beginnt mit Fol. I., der 2. Teil hat kein eigenes Titelblatt, weshalb die Blattzählung bis Ende des Buches Esther geht, das mit Fol. CCCXV schließt und gleichzeitig den Schluß des 2. Teiles bildet. Der 3. Teil hat ebenfalls kein eigenes Titelblatt, doch hat ders. eine eigene Blattzählung u. endet mit Fol. LXVIII (irrtümlich für Fol. LXXXVIII, da nach Fol. LXXXV die Numerierung mit LXVI fortführt). Vgl. Panzers Bibelübers. Mart. Luthers, S. 308.

Leider fehlen die Bl. 98, 99 (R₁, 2). Am Anfang und Ende stark fleckig. Der Schluß ist verbunden. Die letzten Blätter sind scharf beschnitten, mit Textverlust einiger Marginalien. Das Innere des Buches zeigt Gebrauchsspuren, ist aber im großen Ganzen gut erhalten.

Von größter Seltenheit.

- 181 La Sacra Biblia. Tradutta in lingua rumanscha d'Engadina bass. Stampad' in Scuol. Tras Jacob Dorta à Vulpera juven. Anno MDCLXXIX. Schuls, Vulpius & Dorta, 1679. Fol. Woodcut-title, printed in red and black, surrounded by a large figured border. Text printed in 2 cols. Original binding of wooden boards covered with blind stamped pigskin, 2 clasps, centre- and corner-pieces on each side. Frs. 300.--

Luthi-Tschanz, Die romanischen Bibelausgaben im XVI., XVII. und XVIII. Jahrhundert. Bern 1917. no. 4. p. 25–32. (Reprod.)

First complete Edition of a Romansh Bible being a fine monument of the Romansh typography. It is written in a popular language and was therefore a house book of the protestant Ladins.

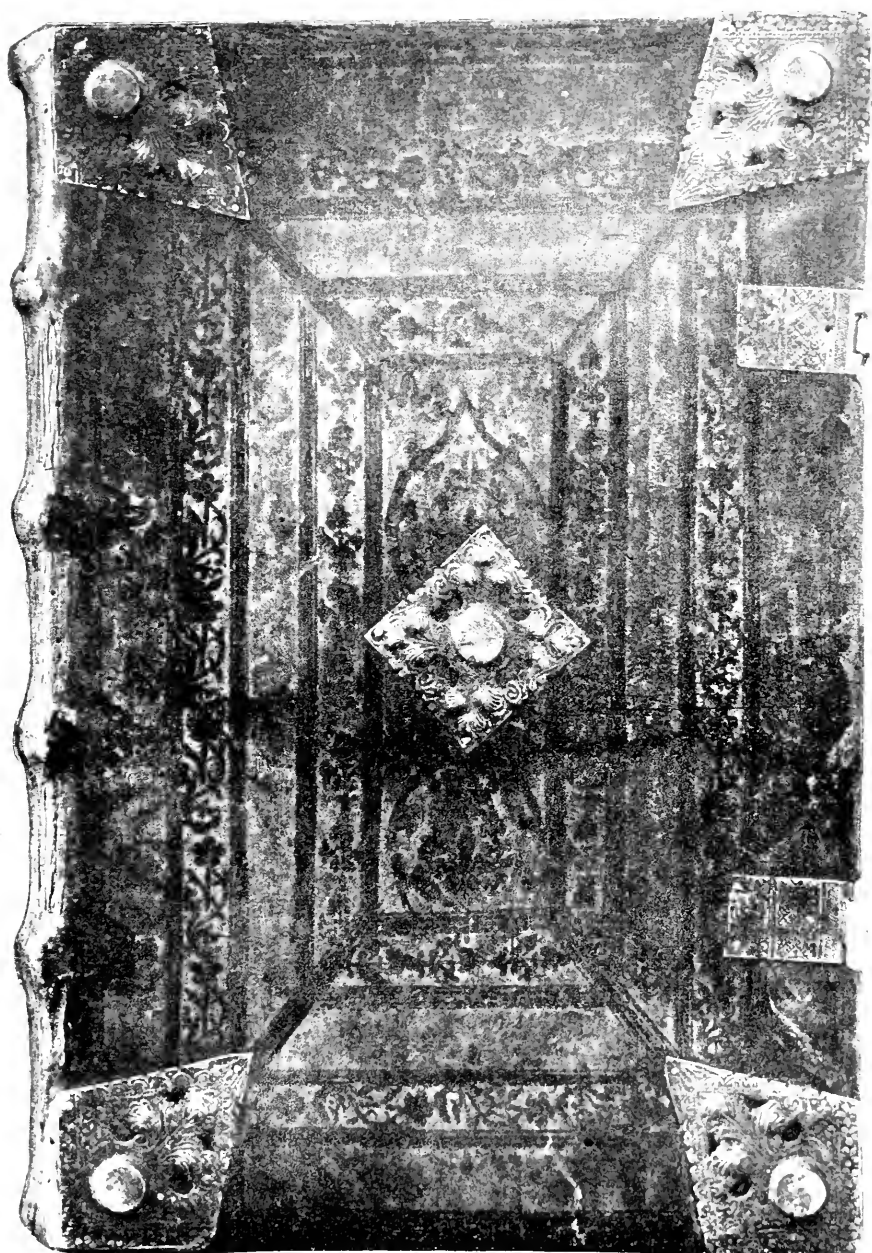

The interesting title-woodcut which is repeated at the beginning of the New Testament shows at top the four Evangelists writing, with their symbols, to the left Moses, to the right a high priest, at the lower border God's creation of Eve.

This important Bible is somewhat browned in places and has slightly suffered by use on margins at the beginning and end. On leaf 299–300 the lower right corner is defective with a small loss of text and on the first and last leaves there are a few small holes. But generally it is a well-preserved copy of this extremely rare Romansh Bible in its original binding.

Mit Titelholzschnitt, Holzschnittbordüren und zahlreichen altkolorierten Holzschnitten. Prächtiger alter brauner Kalblederband der Zeit auf Holz mit Blindpressung und je fünf reich ziselierten Messingbuckeln auf dem Vorder- und Hinterdeckel.
 Frs. 5000.—

Zibrt III. 269. Hanslick S. 513—14. Jungmann 538. Essling I. 140.

Ganz vollständiges Exemplar der berühmten ersten Ausgabe der Hussitenbibel, die gleichzeitig die zweite illustrierte czechische Bibel überhaupt ist und von der außer dem vorliegenden nur noch ein einziges vollständiges Exemplar, nämlich dasjenige der Prager Universitätsbibliothek bekannt ist. Das Exemplar des Britischen Museums ist unvollständig, ebenso das Exemplar der Wiener Nationalbibliothek. Das einzige Exemplar, das dem Prince d'Essling bekannt war und das er in seiner Bibliographie der Venetianischen Drucke beschreibt ist ebenfalls defekt. Auch in der eigenen großen Sammlung venetianischer Drucke des Prinzen fehlt das Buch.

Diese berühmteste und seltenste aller czechischen Bibeln ist die erste czechische Hussitenbibel. Sie wurde von den Utraquisten herausgegeben und im 6. Kapitel der Apokalypse sieht man Papst Julius II. in der Hölle liegen. Vielleicht ist darauf die ungeheure Seltenheit dieser Bibel zurückzuführen. Die Bibel ist auch ein höchst wichtiges Sprachdokument.

Als Herausgeber werden genannt Jan Hlawa, Wacław Sowa, Burian Lazar. Bürger der Alt-Stadt Prag, deren Wappen sich unter der Vorrede in Holzschnitt befinden.

Die prachtvollen Holzschnitte der reich illustrierten Bibel sind von alter Hand farbenprächtig koloriert. Der Titel, ganz in Holzschnitt, zeigt das Wappen der Stadt Prag, darüber zwei schwebende Engel (siehe die Abbild.). Mehrere ganzseitige Bordüren in Holzschnitt, ferner ganzseitige Holzschnitte und etwa 100 kleine Holzschnitte im Text machen den sowohl typographisch als illustrativ prächtig ausgestatteten Frühdruck zu einer der schönsten frühen Bibelausgaben, die auf uns gekommen sind.

Das Exemplar ist vorzüglich erhalten und in einen prachtvollen gleichzeitigen Kalblederband mit reichziselierten Messingbeschlägen gebunden.

Die vorliegende Bibel ist die seltenste aller czechischen Bibeln. Es ist die erste czechische Bibel, zu der Originalillustrationen angefertigt wurden, da die Kuttenberger Bibel von 1489 nur Kopien der Holzschnitte der 9. deutschen Bibel enthält.

A quite complete copy of the excessively rare first edition of the Bohemian Bible for the use of the Hussites. Only three or four other copies are known, nearly all of them imperfect, so the copy of the Brit. Museum (wanting 6 leaves) and the only copy described by Prince d'Essling, Livres à figures Venetiens I. 140 (also 6 leaves wanting). The Bible is illustrated with many coloured woodcuts including several full-page-illustrations and about 100 smaller woodcuts.

See Reproductions on plates XII, XIII and XIV.

- 100 Breviarium Pragense. Nürnberg, G. Stuchs de Sultzbach 1502. Fol. Goth. splendidly printed in red and black. 2 vols. with together 440 leaves. With a magnificent full-page woodcut on verso of the first leaf repr. the four czechish Saints: Adalbertus, Sigismundus, Vitus and Wenceslaus. Numer. initials in the text printed in red and blue. Bound in two different original bindings: Stamped half pigskin over wooden boards, one clasp and brown calf over wooden boards, ten fine metal pieces, one clasp.

Fr. 1000.—

Proctor 10903. Not in the Parma Collection.

This is one of the rarest missals printed at the beginning of the XVIth century. It is a masterwork of printing and Stuchs is well-known as a printer of splendid liturgical works. The fine cut showing the 4 patrons of Czechoslovakia is unshaved and untouched by colour.

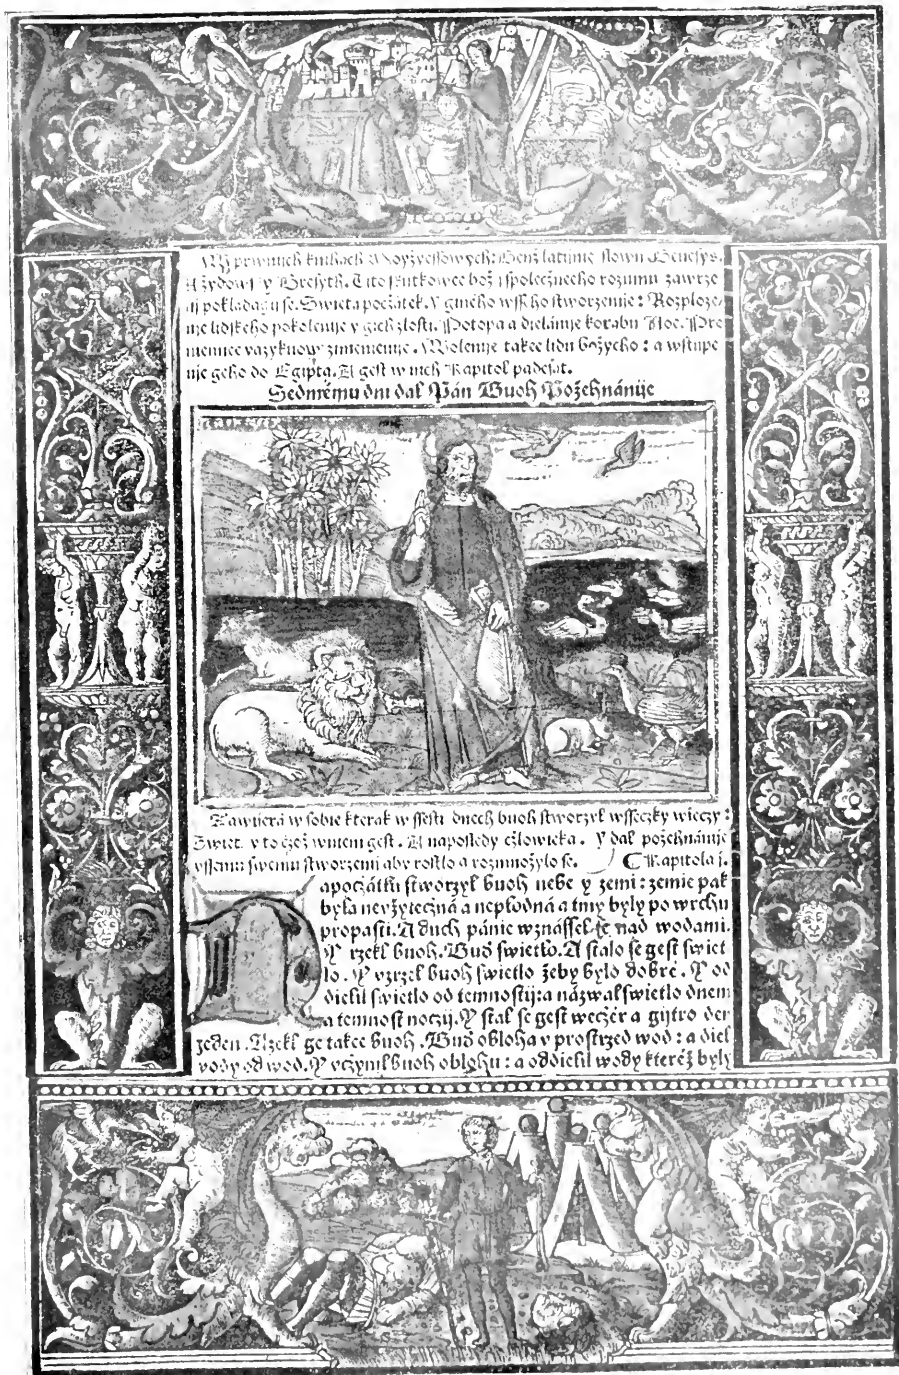

Very fine copy in the best state of preservation.

See Reproduction on plate XV.

Alter weisser Schweinslederband auf Holz mit reicher figuraler und ornamentaler Blindpressung. Auf dem Vorderdeckel die Figur der Klugheit, auf dem Hinterdeckel die Tapferkeit mit dem Löwen. Frs. 750.—

Prachtexemplar der äusserst seltenen Ausgabe der Kirchengesänge der böhmischen Brüder in deutscher Sprache. Dieses Gesangbuch der Waldenser wurde von Mich. Tham, Joh. Geletzky u. Petrus Herbertus, die das Vorwort unterzeichnen herausgegeben und dem Kaiser Maximilian II. „im Namen der evangelischen Kirchen in Böhmen und Mähren (so von etlichen Waldenser genannt werden)“ gewidmet. „Es ist ein Codex der grundlegend ist und maßgebend bleibt für alle Zeiten“.

Das Gesangbuch umfaßt zwei Teile mit 343 Liedern samt Musik zu jedem Liede und einen Anhang von 108 Liedern. Im Anhang zahlreiche Lieder von Martin Luther. Nach der Widmung an Kaiser Maximilian II., in dem die Waldenser um seinen Schutz bitten folgt die Vorrede an die reformierte evangelisch christliche Kirche, in welcher Johannes Huss, „der Behmen Apostel“, der auch den Kirchengesang in böhmischer Sprache eingeführt habe, und Martin Luther als verwandte und gleichgesinnte Helden des Glaubens gefeiert werden.

Das Buch ist typographisch prächtig ausgestattet, mit schönen Initialen versehen, der Titel mit reicher Holzschnittbordüre.

Siehe auch Wackernagel Nr. 878, Koch, Gesch. d. Kirchenliedes etc. II., S. 410. Wolkan, Das deutsche Kirchenlied der böhmischen Brüder, S. 48 ff.

Diese Ausgabe fehlt bei Hanslick Beschreibung d. Prager Univers. Bibl., und wir konnten auch kein Exemplar im Handel nachweisen. Wolkan berichtet a. a. O. p. IV. über die Schwierigkeit der Auffindung der Gesangbücher der Böhmisches Brüder von denen manche nur noch in einem Exemplar vorhanden sind.

No. 206. Kirchengeseng der böhmischen Brüder. 1580.

Weale p. 125. Rivoli, Missels 151, 16. Alès 120. Bobatta, Parma I, 208. Graesse IV, 548. Very rare edition with plenty of historiated woodcut initials, a full-page woodcut on fol. 1 v., and a very fine Canon woodcut within a woodcut border, unfortunately slightly damaged in the outer margin. The Canon is printed at the end of the Dominicale, then follows the Commune sanctorum and after this the Proprium de sanctis.

After the leaf clxxx (y₁₀) there are 8 leaves interfoliated which contain a contemporary ms., the „Prephacio dominicalis” in Latin, and on the following 14 pages other praefationes in czechish language with ms. musical notation. Another czechish entry „Liber sapientie” we find on fol. ccl (J₆) written in red ink, on the title an owner's entry. Rather spotted in places, a rent in fol. clxvij (x₇) and in the 2^d leaf of the canon, the last 7 leaves of which are wormholed throughout in the lower margin.

Bygevoegt een Beschryving van de Planten, in dit Werk voorkomende . . . Amsterdam, J. F. Bernard, 1780. Atlas fol. Title in red & black with engr. vignette by B. Picart, large engr. frontispice (J. Ottens inv. J. Oosterwijk exc.) and numerous plates with together 184 utmost exquisitely engraved specimens of insects and the plants which they devour, by M. S. Merian. A splendid copy, bound together with the same authoress's book: Over de voortteeling en wonderbaerlyke Veranderingen der Surinamsche Insecten . . . Waar in ook de wonderbare Padden, Hagedissen, Slangen, Spinnen en andere zeltzaame Gediertens worden vertoont en beschreeven. Benevens een Aenhangsel van de veranderingen van Visschen in Kikvorschen, en van Kikvorschen in Visschen. Amsterdam 1780. With engr. title-vignette and 72 fine large engraved plates of the insects of Surinam (Dutch Guiana), and the plants which they devour. Half calf, fully gilt back. Frs. 400.—

A most valuable volume which is remarkable for the fine plates it contains. They are executed with greatest care and of high artistic value. This edition contains twelve plates more than the Amsterdam edition of 1705.

Sibylla Merian (1647–1717) was the daughter of the famous engraver Matthew Merian. She became the pupil of the Dutch painter Abr. Mignon and achieved high distinction by her flower pieces which are marked by careful finish and delicate handling. The above works are not only of entomological interest as it may appear from the titles, but are equally important from the botanical point of view, the flowers and plants being equally well represented together with the Insects. The designs were made by the authoress herself from nature; she lived several years in Surinam for that special purpose. The book on the fauna of Surinam is also the first to contain a description of the tadpole of Pseudis paradoxa as a frog changing into a fish.

Very fine copy of this extremely rare volume.

Auquel est contenu l'Art et Science de la deue et vraye Proportion des Lettres Attiques, qu'on dit autrement Lettres Antiques et vulgairement Lettres Romaines, Proportionnées selon le Corps et Visage Humain. Paris sous Petit Pont a Lenseigne du Pot Cassé, par maistre Geofroy Tory de Bourges Libraire, et Autheur du dict Liure. Et par Giles Gourmont aussi libraire demourant en la Rue saint Jacques a Lenseigne des Trois Coronnes 1529. small-folio, 8 un. & 80 numb. leaves. Title page surrounded by a splendid border and bearing Tory's device of the „Pot Cassé”. Numerous woodcuts and woodcut initial letters finely designed and engraved by G. Tory. Original binding of old calf. Frs. 4000.—

Splendid copy of the most beautiful French woodcut book of the 16th century.

“In the first half of the sixteenth century, the roman letter again asserted itself, and gothic characters were no longer the exclusive use of French printing-houses. This was due largely to the influence of that singular genius Geoffroy Tory of Bourges”, who was at the forefront of all progress made in books in the second quarter of the sixteenth century. He was at once poet, translator and critic, artist and workman, dreamer and reformer. He wrote, painted, and published books; he designed type in which to print them and ornaments with which to adorn them. He reformed French orthography. He was a prime mover in introducing roman types and made innovations in the arrangement of title-pages. In short, he was a kind of divine jack-of-all-trades. His famous Champfleury, begun in 1523, was published in 1529. It was one of the important books in the history of letter design; and Tory was rewarded in 1530 for its productions with the title of “imprimeur du roi”.

The Champfleury is divided in three parts and on the verso of the title-page Tory gives himself the contents of the three books: “Au premier Livre est contenue L'exhortation a mettre et ordonner la Langue Française par certaine Reigle de parler elegamment en bon et plussain langage Francois.

Au Segond est traicte de Linvention des Lettres Attiques et de la conference proportionnelle dicelles au Corps et Visage naturel de l'homme parfait.

Au Tiers et dernier Liure sont deseigneés toutes les dittes Lettres Attiques selon leur Ordre Abecedaise en leur haulteur et largeur . . .

En deux Caietz a la fin sont adioustées Treze diuerses facons de Lettres. Cest a scauoir. Lettres Hebraïques, Greques, Latines, Francoises . . . Lettres Persiennes, Arabiques, Africaines. Turques et Tartariennes . . .”

The Champfleury is of the greatest rarity and a book of a very high value. To possess a copy of it is the most ardent wish of every serious book-collector.

The extremely rare original edition of Basel. One of the first German pasquinades in which the Franciscan Thomas Murner and the whole clergy of the Catholic Church are mocked.
The satirical cut is very remarkable. The pope enthroned surrounded by the cardinals — all with wolf's heads — is drawing into his net some geese. A monk (Murner) with a chat's head is playing the lute. The cut is drawn in the style of the illustrations of the Genchmatt, but it is not the work of Ambrosius Holbein.
Nice and clean copy of this very curious book, some insignificant wormholes.

- 253 Murner, Thomas. Logica memorativa. Chartiludium logice siue totius dialectice memoria: et nouus Petri hyspani textus emendatus: cum iucundo pictasmatio exercitio. Straßburg, Johann Grüninger, 1509. 4^{to}. 84 unn. ll. (the last blank). With 16 small and 52 large woodcuts, 2 diagrams, printer's mark on title and some nice figur. and ornament. initials. Old limp vellum. 800.—

A most interesting and curious book by the famous German satirist Thomas Murner (1475–1537?), being a humorous card game for the learning of logic. At first he had kept this method to himself and was therefore reproached with sorcery, but after having made known his secret he was recompensed by the University of Krakau. Probably he had made the acquaintance of this playing-card-method at Paris where Lefèvre d'Étaples (Faber Stapulensis) lectured on arithmetics in the same manner. Murner employed it also on metric, logic and jurisprudence.

Our copy is of special interest as having 4 leaves more than all the other copies known. It begins with sheet A (6 leaves) and then comes the second sheet with 4 leaves, also with signature A, which is missing in all other copies. It is possible that this part, entitled "Modus Practicandi" was published separately and inserted only in some copies.

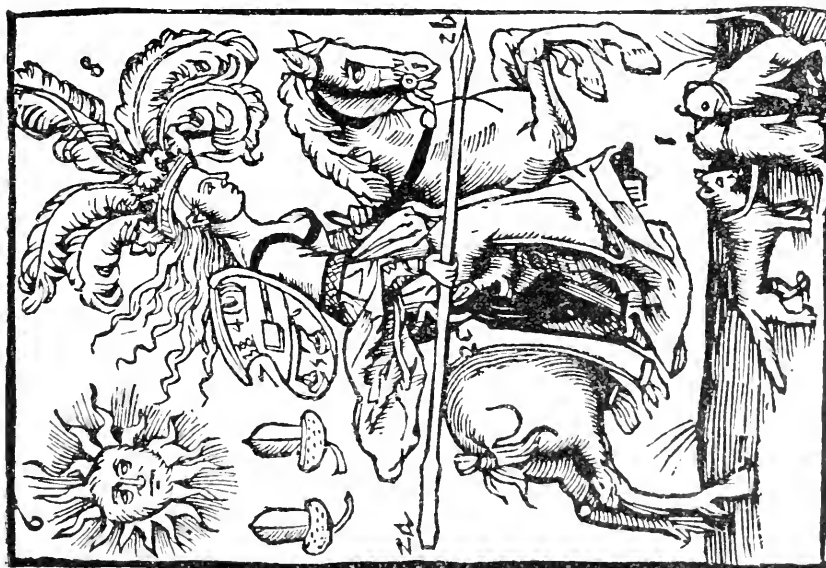

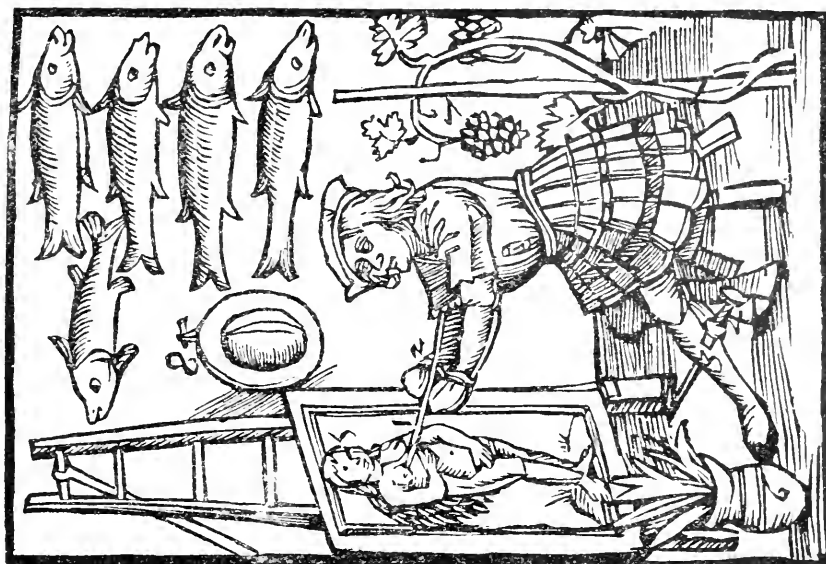

We have compared library- and bookseller copies but nowhere we have found these 4 leaves which surely form part of the book.

In the "Logica memorativa" the 51 fine woodcuts are the same as in the play itself and they are very curious ones. Each of them shows a man or a woman, signs and numbers referring to the relative chapter. The first, entitled "Typus logices", is a full-page cut and is taken from the Margarita philosophica of Gregor Reisch, printed 1504 by Schott; the other are new ones and they illustrate in a phantastic way single doctrines of logic.

A beautiful, large copy with many rough edges; the woodcuts in very fresh impressions. Extremely rare.

With a vignette on title, four full-page woodcuts, two of them by Luc Antonio degli Uberti (signed), a smaller cut, the printer's device at end and some figured initials. Vellum. Frs. 200.—

Eitner II, p. 312. Eßling III, p. 265, no. 1794. First edition of this interesting and very rare booklet. The first cut on title represents the choral song, the second on l. 2v the „Guidonian hand“, the third on l. 3v is a diagram with scales. The next two cuts, surrounded by small borders represent the Procession with the Ark of the Covenant and the Annunciation. These two nice cuts are the work of Luc Antonio degli Uberti, signed „L“. On l. 97v we find another small cut showing a mass for the dead.

Good copy, in the last leaf a hole slightly damaging the printer's device.

No. 323. La Hèle, Octo Missae.

Fine copy of this very rare musical book adorned with plenty of large figured initials. On the splendid title 3 allegoric and emblematic pictures, below the passage of the Red Sea, S. Caecilia, Judith the head of Holofernes, Saul and David, and David with the Ark of the Lord.

Ad I. Eitner, Quellen-Lex. VII, 17. — La Hèle (b. ab. 1547 at Antwerp, d. before the 4th March in 1589 at Madrid) was canonicus and regens chori at Tournai, Antwerp and Madrid. The eight masses 1. Oculi omnium in te sperant Domine, 2. In convertendo Dominus, 3. Nigra sum sed formosa, 4. Gustate et videte (5 voices), 5. Quare tristis es, 6. Fremuit Spiritus Jesu (6 voices), 7. Praeter rerum seriem, 8. Benedicta es caelorum regina (7 voices), are composed on motives of the motets of Orlando di Lasso, Cyprianus de Rore, Thomas Crequillon, et Josquin des Prets.

Ad II. Eitner VII, 36–37. Philippus de Monte (b. at Mons or at Malines 1521, d. at Prague 1603) was canonicus and regens chori at Cambrai and leader of the imperial choir at Vienna.

A beautiful book, surely one of the finest musical imprints ever published. Bound in a very interesting original binding.

Eitner VII, p. 298. Fétis VI, p. 435. The 5th edition of these 44 motets for 5, 6, and 8 voices, including 2 motets by Sylla Petroaloysio Palestrina, 31 motet by Angelo, and 1 motet by Rudolfo Petroaloysio Palestrina. Sylla was the brother and Angelo and Rudolfo were the sons of Johannes.

— Motetorum quae partim quinis, partim senis, partim octonis vocibus concinuntur, liber tertius. Venetiis, apud haered. Hieron. Scoti, 1589. 4^{to}. With printer's device on title, and 49 numb. pp. with musical notes.

Eitner VII, p. 298. Fétis VI, p. 435. The 3rd edition of 44 motets, for 5, 6 and 8 voices.

Fr. 360.—

This collection contains 188 motets of Palestrina. Only two editions of his motets issued at that time, are not included in this compilation.

These 5 parts are bound in red morocco in one volume with gilt fillet and gilt back, they have rather suffered by damp and water, the lower blank margin of l. 1 of the first work repaired, but otherwise a perfect and good copy.
